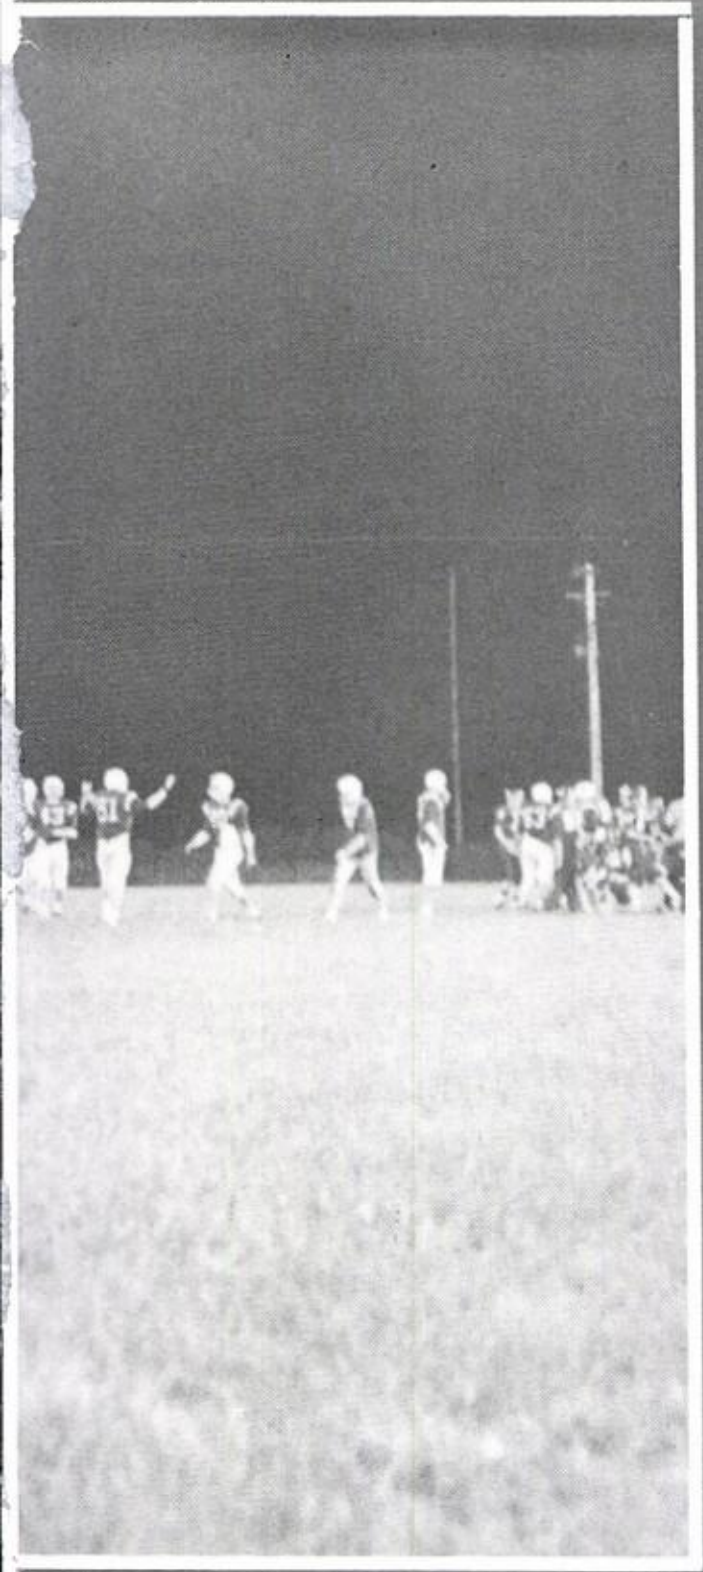
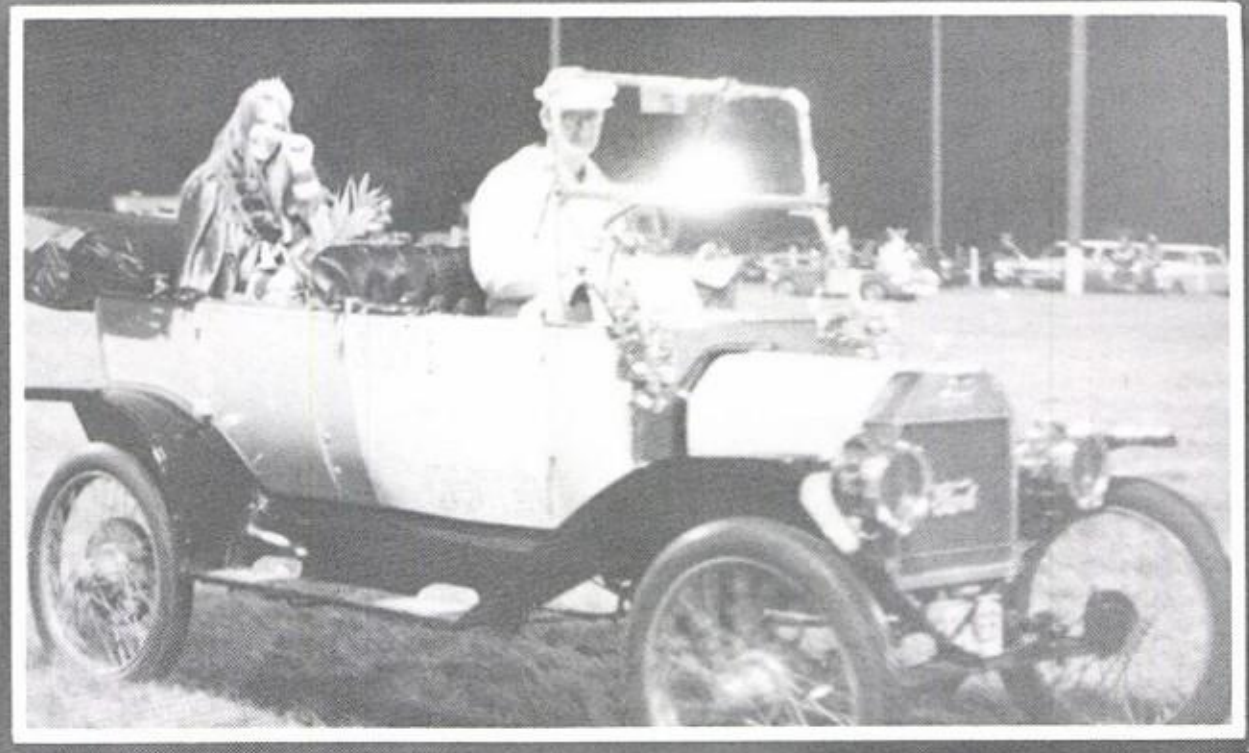
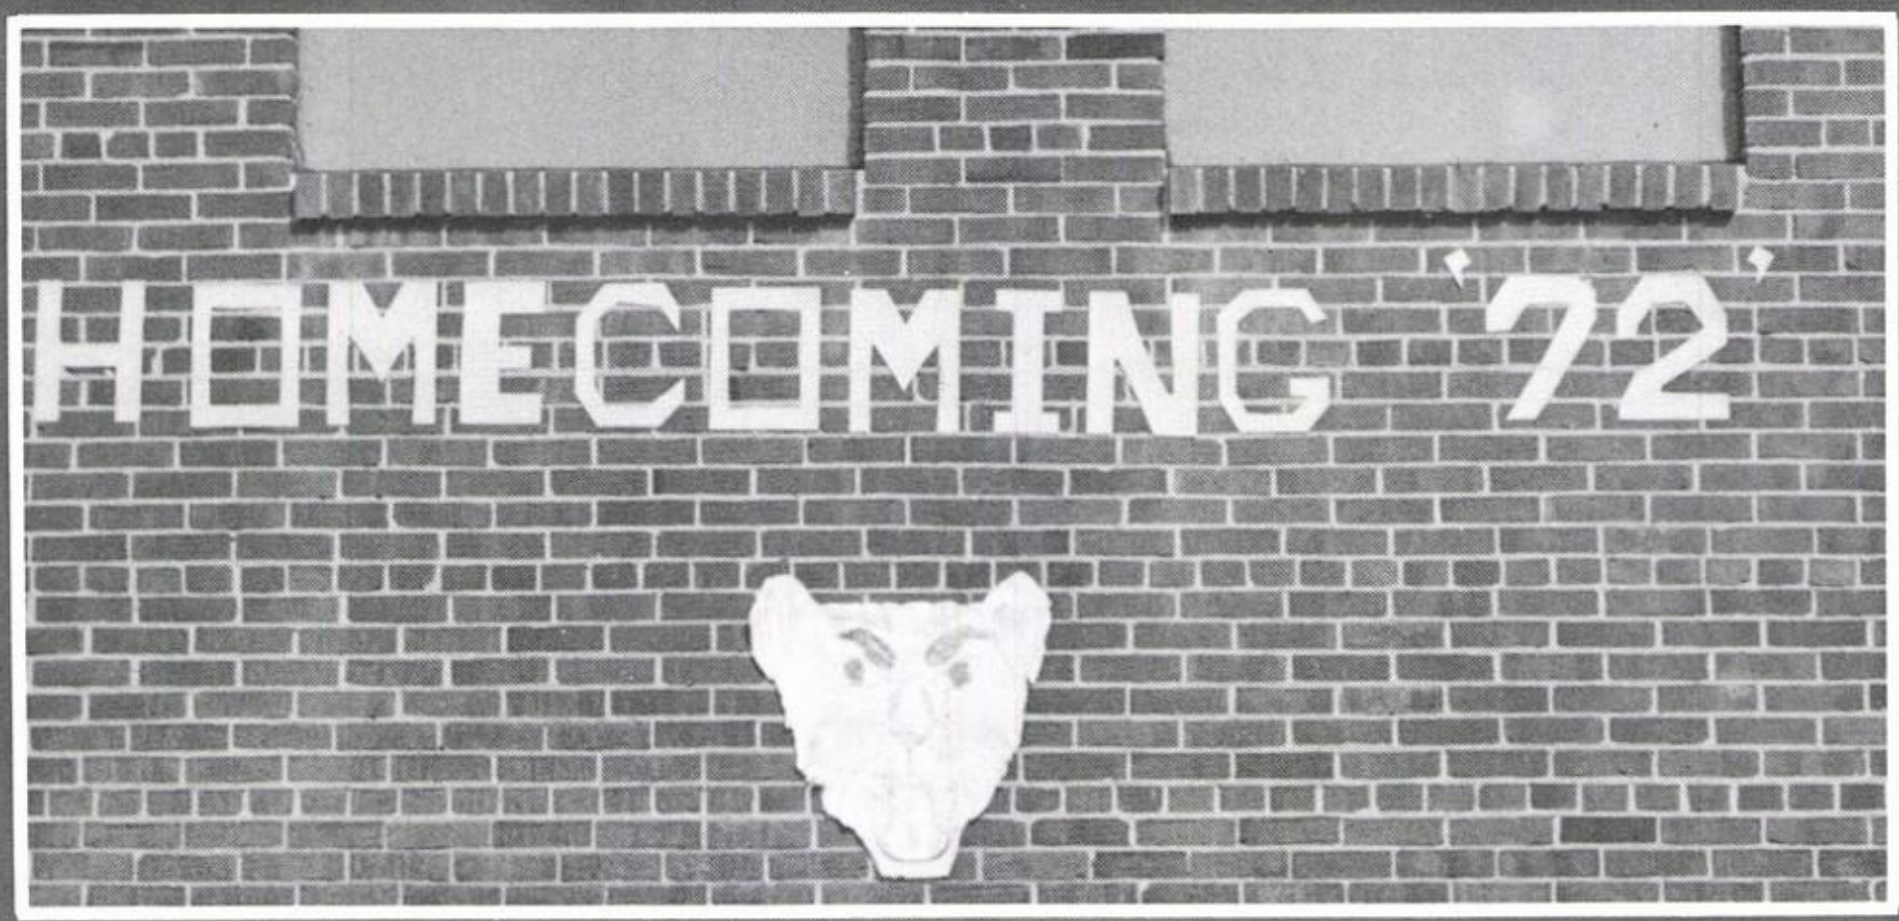
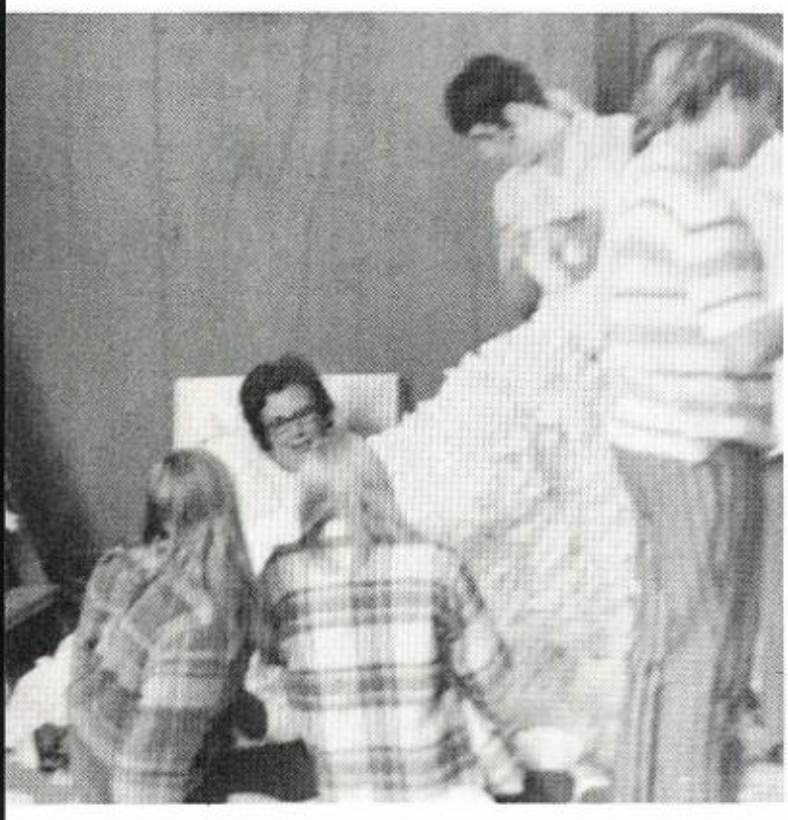
Homecoming Festivities

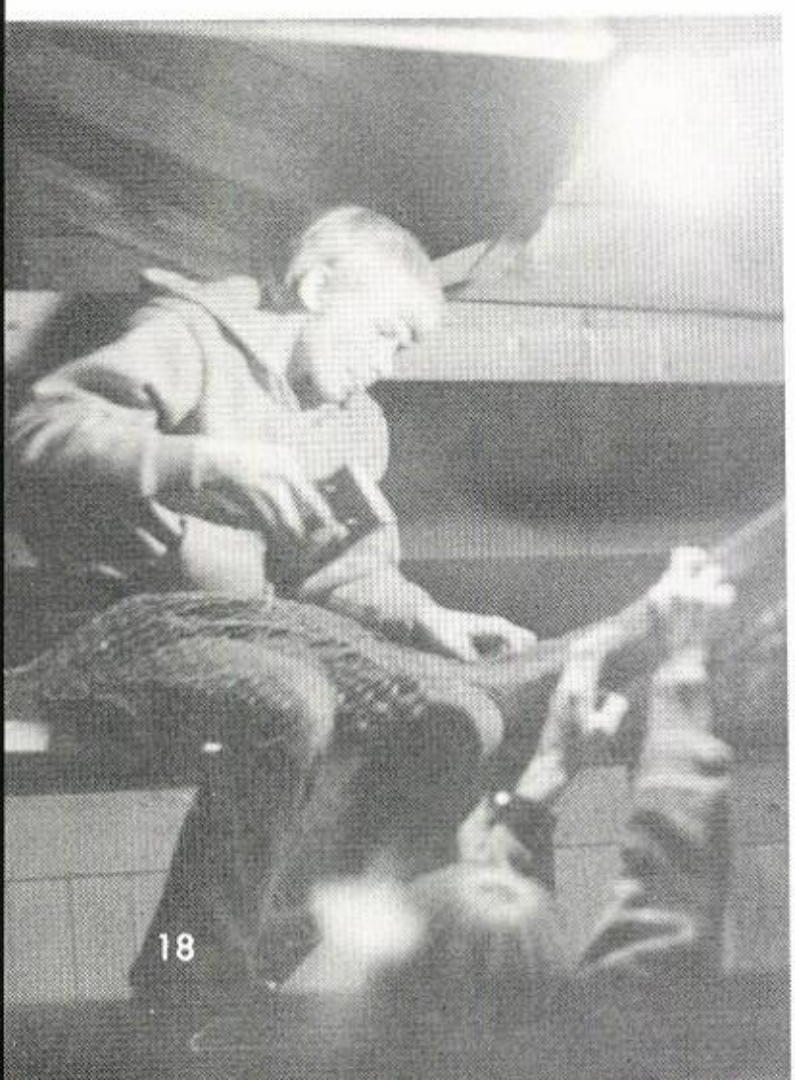






Homecoming week was busy for all, however minutely involved. Supplies were "rounded-up", funds dipped into, and "eager" labor forces began the race to an undestined finish for the float competition. Time was donated by faculty, students and parents alike. Fatigue was abundant, but the anticipation of the parade and the announcement of the winning float kept everyone going.





1st Place: Seniors - Register a Victory

A week of hard work paid off. Thursday night's coronation relieved a lot of anxiety as Laurie Lentell and Gary Grashorn were crowned King and Queen.

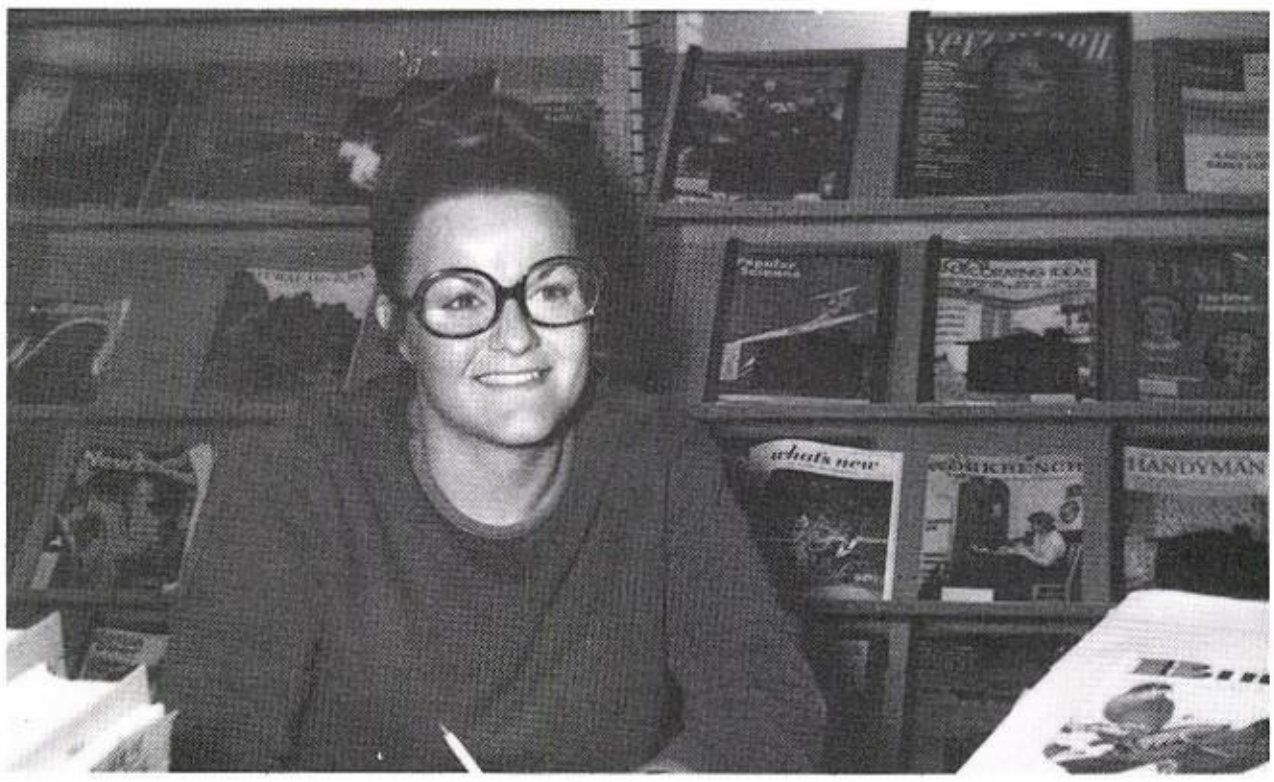
An unforgettable week, the last of its kind for the Seniors, was filled with excuses to leave the house every night, a coronation, a victorious football game, and a truly entertaining dance on Saturday.

2nd Place: Juniors - Dial V for a Victory

3rd Place: Sophomores - Expecting a Victory

4th Place: Freshmen - Sail On To A Victory

"SPEAK THE SPEECH I PRAY YOU,
AS I PRONOUNCED IT TO YOU"



This is the track star of the faculty. Not having a room of her own, Miss Jack runs from room to room with arms full of books and loads of information for her students. Her real thing is "being there when students need her." She is happy to give them advice which is theirs to accept or reject.

Goofing Around

The Pep Club showed tremendous spirit and enthusiasm this year. They rooted for the boys from Football season, all the way through Wrestling and Basketball season.

The main money-making project was the Football and Basketball concessions. Pep Club also sponsored two dances this year, the Homecoming Dance and the Lad and Lassie Dance.

All in all, it was a fabulous year for them and they found that UNITY was the REAL THING.

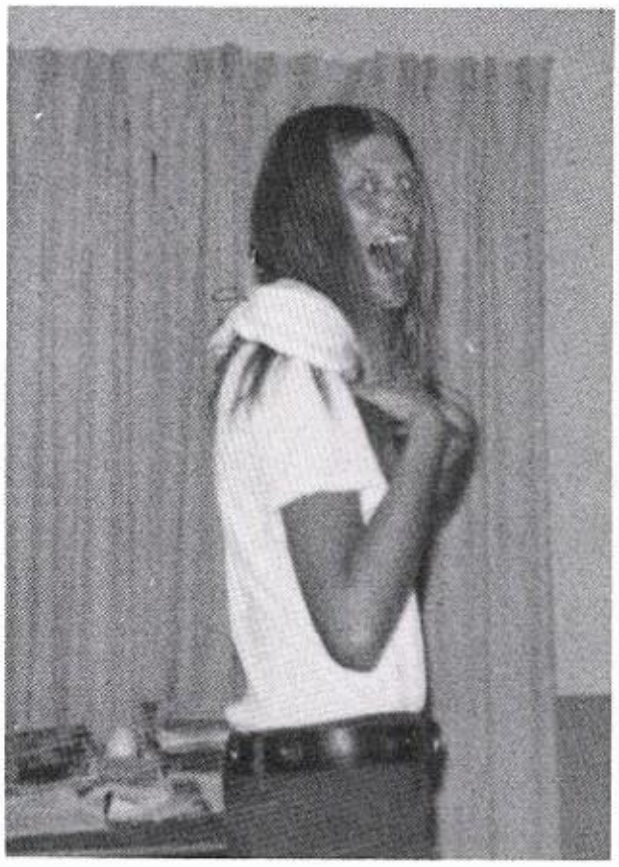
Future Homemakers of America

This year the F.H.A. began with a slumber party for new members at Mrs. Heisner's home. The group attended District Convention, held at Fremont H.S. in October where Georgene Boardman was installed as District III Treasurer. Other activities included the T.W.I.R.P. Dance, selling glitter placques as a money-making project, and F.H.A. Week. During this week, the annual Foreign Foods Dinner was held and new officiers were installed.

Penny Fitz has finally found the love of her life.



Georgene Boardman is getting her equipment on--but for what?

New Horizons Spanning

This year's National Honor Society experienced several real things--expressions of cheer, despair, intrigue, and apathy at meetings; frozen eyebrows, blistered toes, and lots of green bills from the walkathon; a bus ride to the park for the memorable flick of the group and sponsor as they climbed on the slide and slid down it; indecision and arguments as to how to help the school and community; and confusion, shot nerves, and surprise during the special induction ceremony on awards night. Leading the group forward in their plight for reality were John Peters, Pres; Pam Novotny, V. Pres.; and Susie Hayden, Secy-Treas.

Golden Tongue Orators

"Valley attended Conference Speech Contest March 7, at Gretna. All participants were rated from 'superior' to 'good', so we felt very successful. In persuasive speaking, Debbie Lind earned a 'superior' rating. Barb Keeler also received a 'superior' rating for her oral interpretation of "The Secret Life of Walter Mitty." Even though our one-act play, "Impromtu", did not take the trophy, Wendy Fisher, Linda King, Bob Mazzone, and Jim Buckley brought home a 'superior' rating, and Bob was awarded Best Actor. Mike Rinehart presented a satire dealing with television commercials and received an 'excellent' rating. Those receiving 'good' ratings were Rhonda McDonald in oral interpretation of poetry, Larry Daugherty in extemporary speaking, and oral interpretation of drama. The day was full of excitement, but also tiring, especially when we tried to get Bob's head into the bus. What better way could we end the day than Mama's eating pizza?

Our attempts at District Contest March 17, in Blair were not so well received. We lost two entries, but added Kim Reichmuth to the team. Again, our ratings were 'good' and above, but we all dropped or stayed the same. As always, it was the judges---NOT US (REALLY!). Still the day added to our experience. After trying three closed or too expensive restaurants, we gave up and came home to the BA."

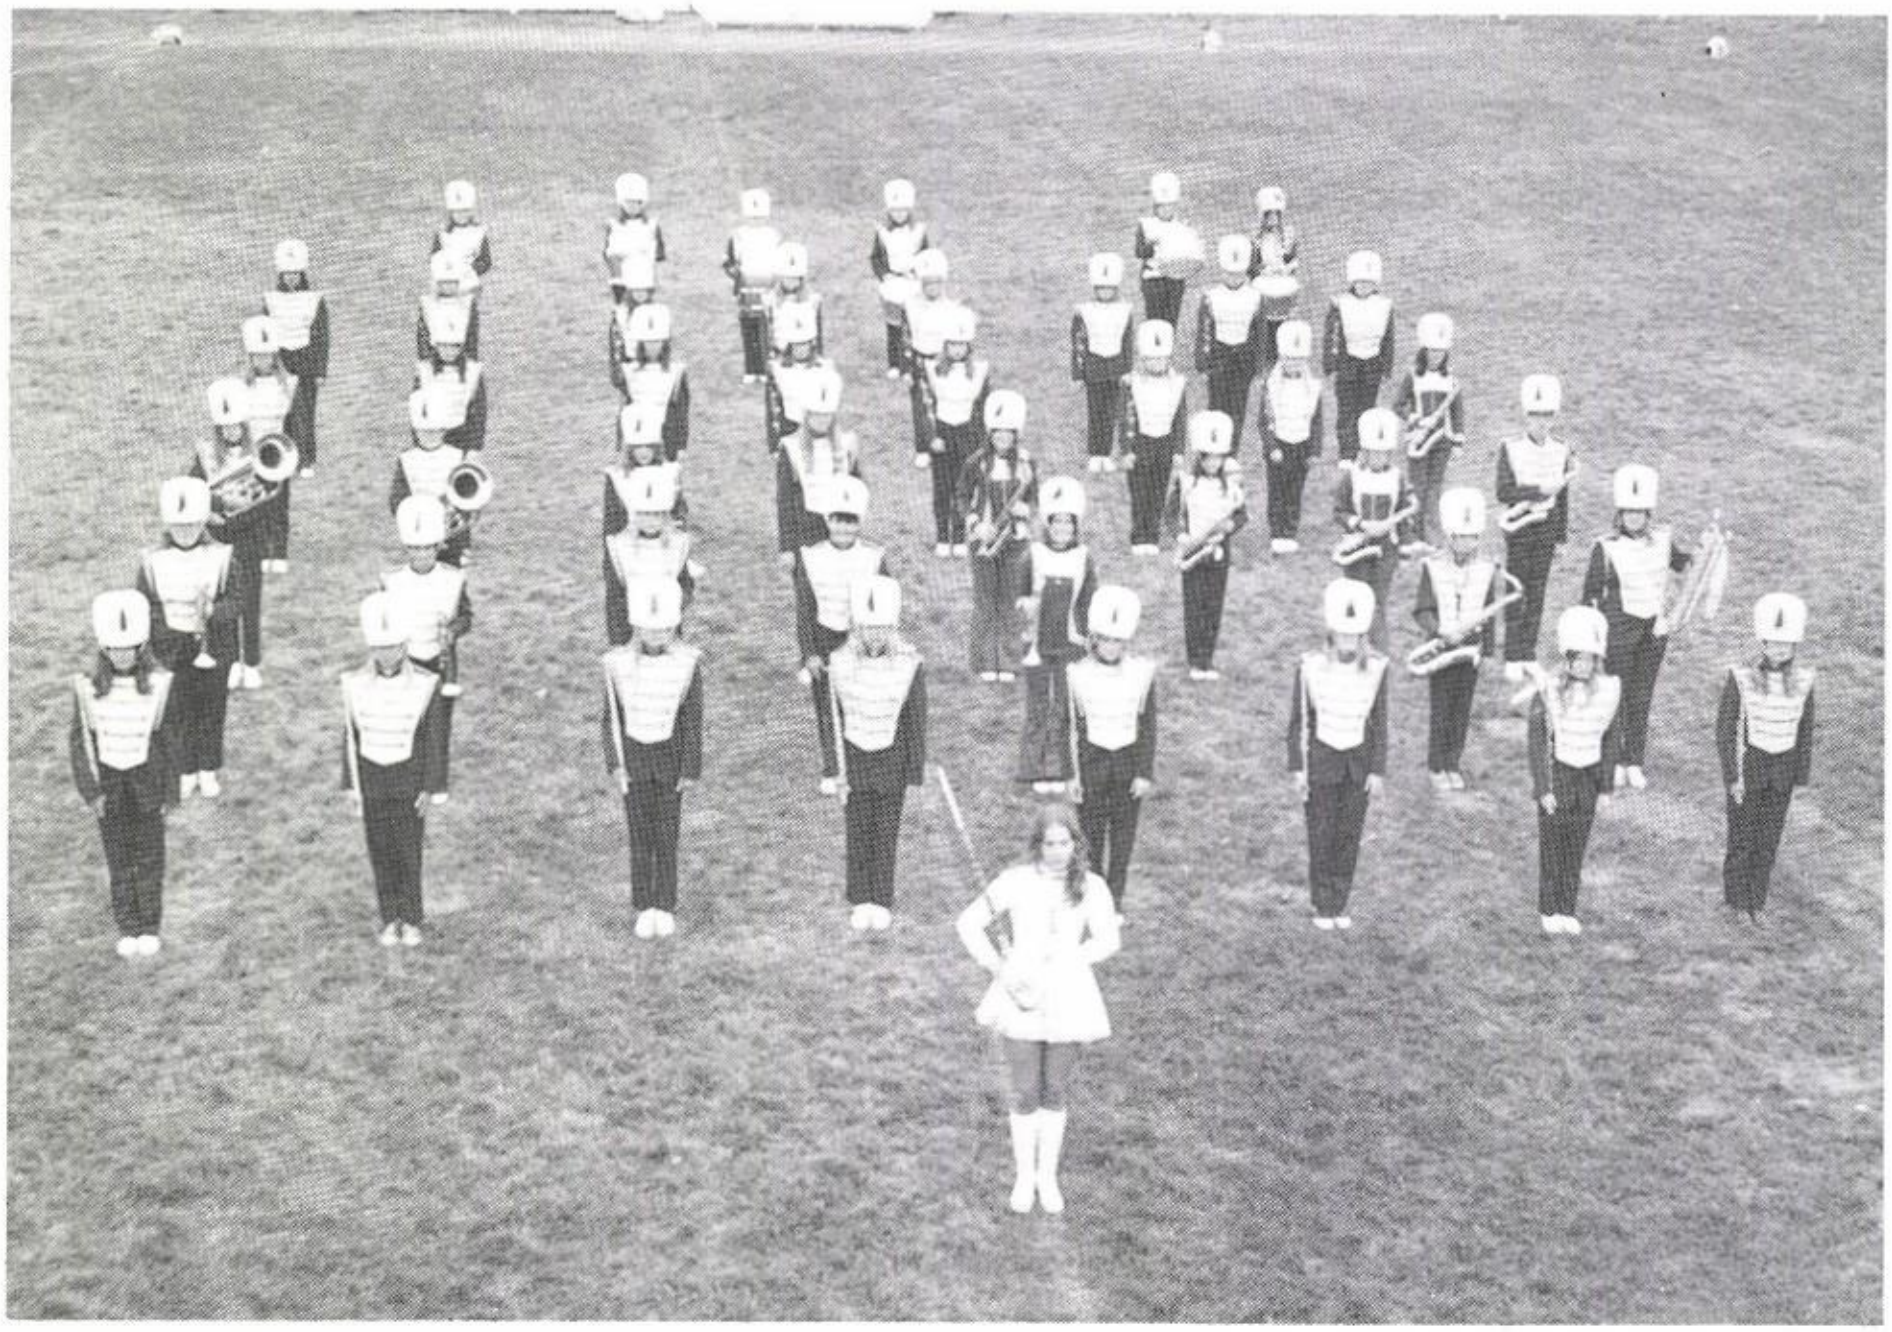
Jackie Duffin, Debbie Odell, Ruth Emerson, Gina Fronce, Kathy Krause, and Debbie TenEyck began the basketball season as Valley's brand new Terrierettes and ended it dazzling the crowds at halftime.

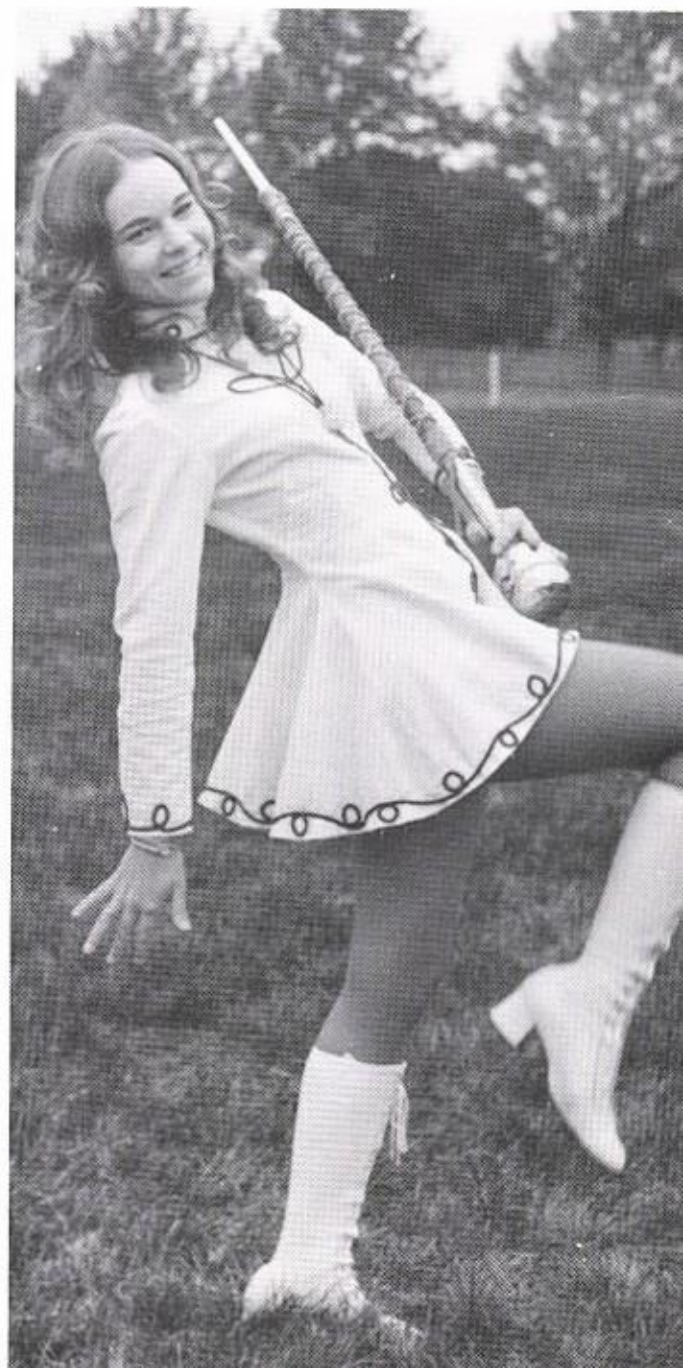
Valley High School



Valley High School Band had a new director this year, with new ideas, new techniques and new problems. The marching band changed its style to precision drill and after first performance jitters, entertained half-time audiences with intricate marching maneuvers and a new big-band sound. The "Terrier" marching band also participated in the Giant Balloon Parade in Omaha.

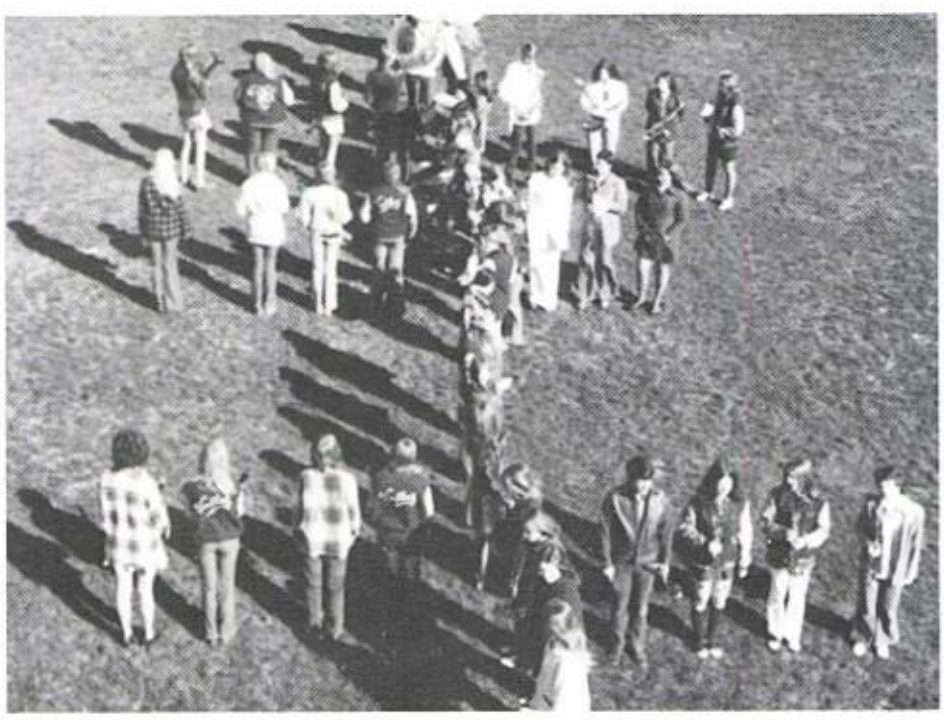
The "Terrier" pep band had a busy year as they provided spirit and entertainment at all the home basketball games as well as pep rallies. The pep band also traveled to Platteview for the conference basketball tournament and to Midland College to act as host band for the District Basketball Tourney.

Valley High School Symphonic Band developed, through the year into a solid playing organization. This year the symphonic band not only presented a winter and spring concert, but also played for grades K through 5 and presented an all-school assembly. Valley was host to the Conference Band Clinic and placed 12 players in the All-Conference Band.



Head Majorette
Senior, Joan Farwell

"Terrier" Marching Band



As demonstrated in the TOP LEFT PICTURE, the new precision drill was met at first attempts with mass confusion. But with practice and a little patience, the band finally mastered the 8 steps to 5 yards - thus giving a fairly uniform movement throughout. The MIDDLE LEFT PICTURE shows the semi-mass confusion which was a fairly common sight on the practice field. LEFT is the finished product as seen on the nights of football games. The change in style of marching brought new interest from the crowd.

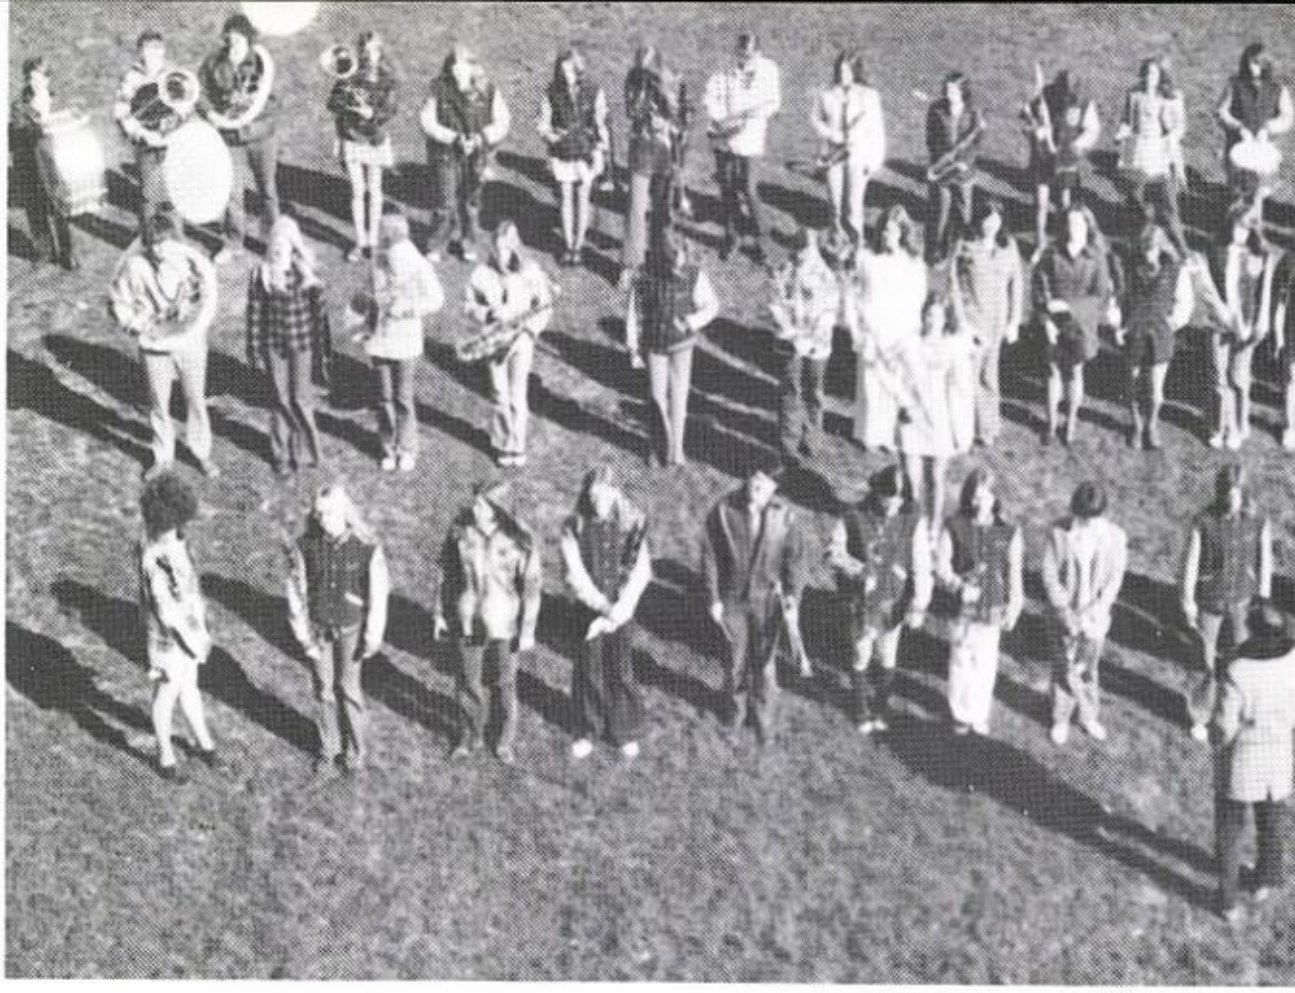
The Wunnerful, Wunnerful Valley High School Band



Marching band took on several new functions this year. Along with the precision drill, which took many hours of hard practice, the band went on a kind of "spirit drive." On several game days the band "sneaked" into the school and played various songs in an attempt to arouse spirit. The band also played at Pep Rallies- providing bounce and new selections to accompany the screaming crowds or the dancing Terrierettes.

The V.H.S. Band hosted the Conference Clinic this year. Practice was long, but the day was not without enjoyment. Entertainment was provided by fellow students, and in the afternoon the SAC Band gave a concert. For those not in Honor Band, the morning was filled by learning more about their particular instrument. Free time came about 3:30, and all found their own methods of using that time. The evening concert, including numbers from each band present, went off with great success under the direction of Mr. Ron Hull. Many compliments were received and in general--A GOOD TIME WAS HAD BY ALL!

Saeger Studio

The Valley Annual Staff would like to express its sincere "thanks" to Mr. Saeger for all his time and devotion in helping us prepare our annual. For the last, we don't know how many years, Mr. Saeger has supplied the group pictures, royalty, and countless others, free of charge. His ready smile and patient manner makes his a joy to work with. VHS extends their thanks, and wishes Mr. Saeger the best of luck in the future.

Mr. Finlay (Merlin) keeps the wheels turning, whether perched on them, sitting on them, or crawling under them. In addition, our maintenance engineer totes the mops, lifts the waste baskets, and prefers Big Wally to Comet while attempting to keep the building in tip-top shape.

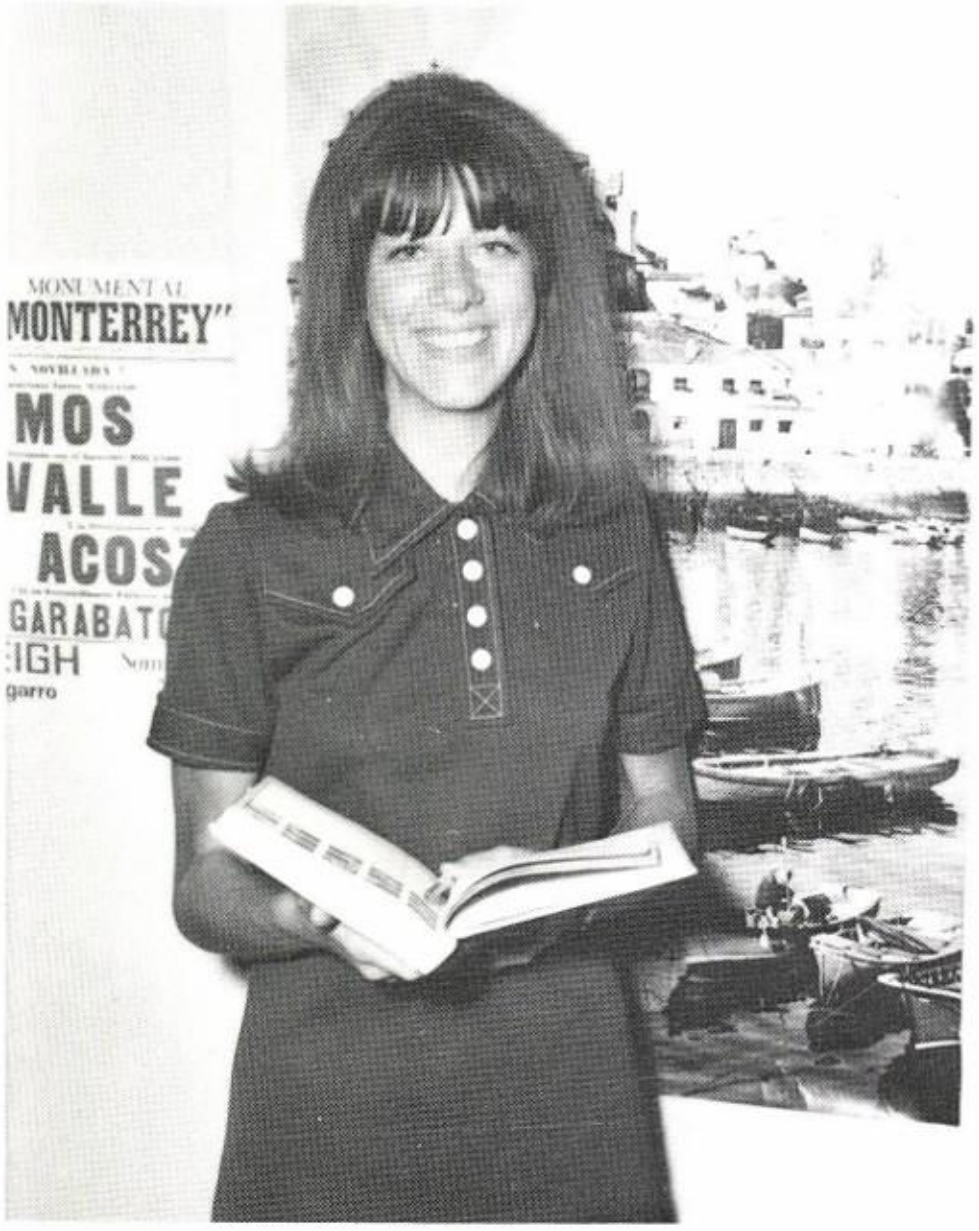
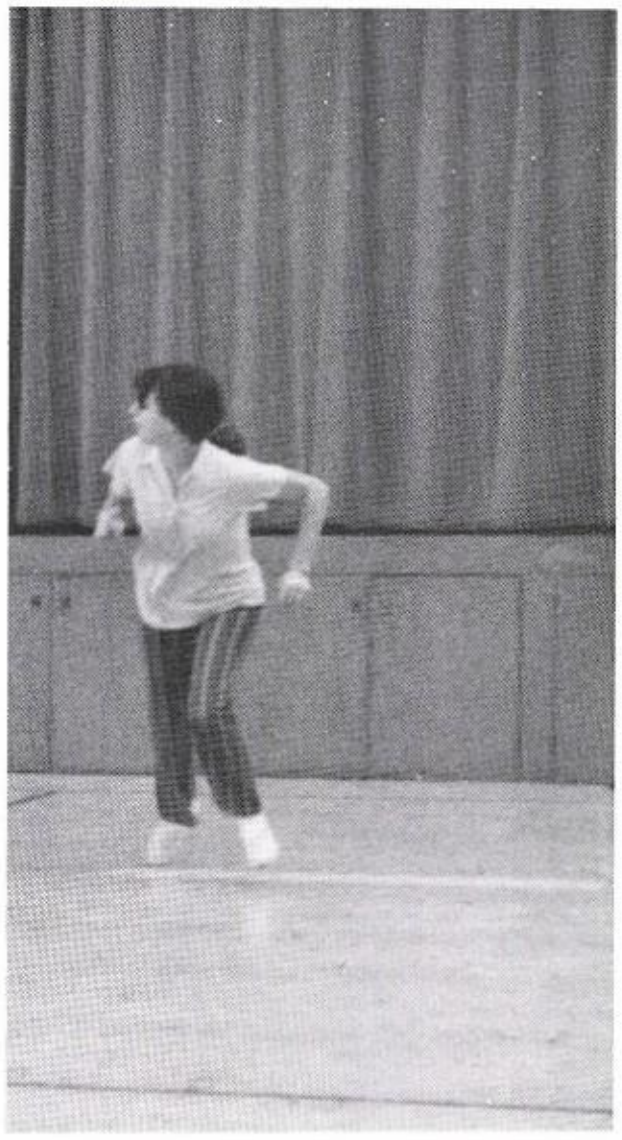
Buenos Dias Alumnos



Mrs. Lenz is in the classroom--all is well in the academic world. When she arrives every morning (almost on time) she jumps into her work with enthusiasm and with energy to burn. She runs through her schedule with the grace of a woman basketball player but with infinitely more skill. Keeping with an old Spanish tradition, Mrs. Lenz firmly believes in the siesta and at the end of her day, she rests.

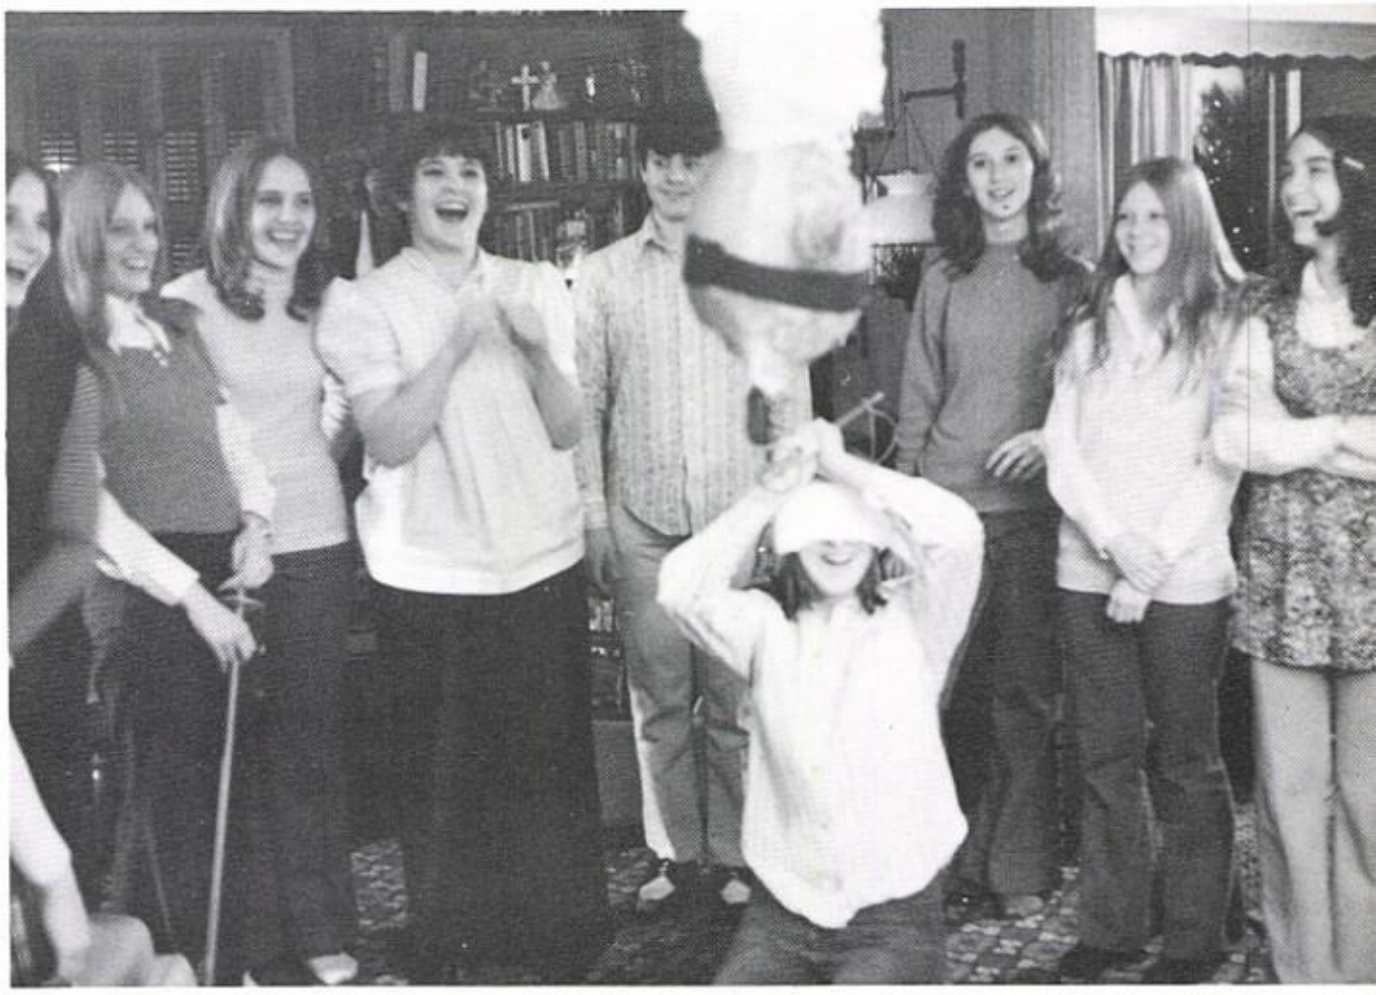


Para los alumnos en la clase de espanol fue un ano prospero. Se divertian hablando, jugando juegos y chisteando en espanol. La fiesta de Navidad siempre es el elemento sobresaliente del ano.

Spanish Club

EL CLUB de ESPANOL

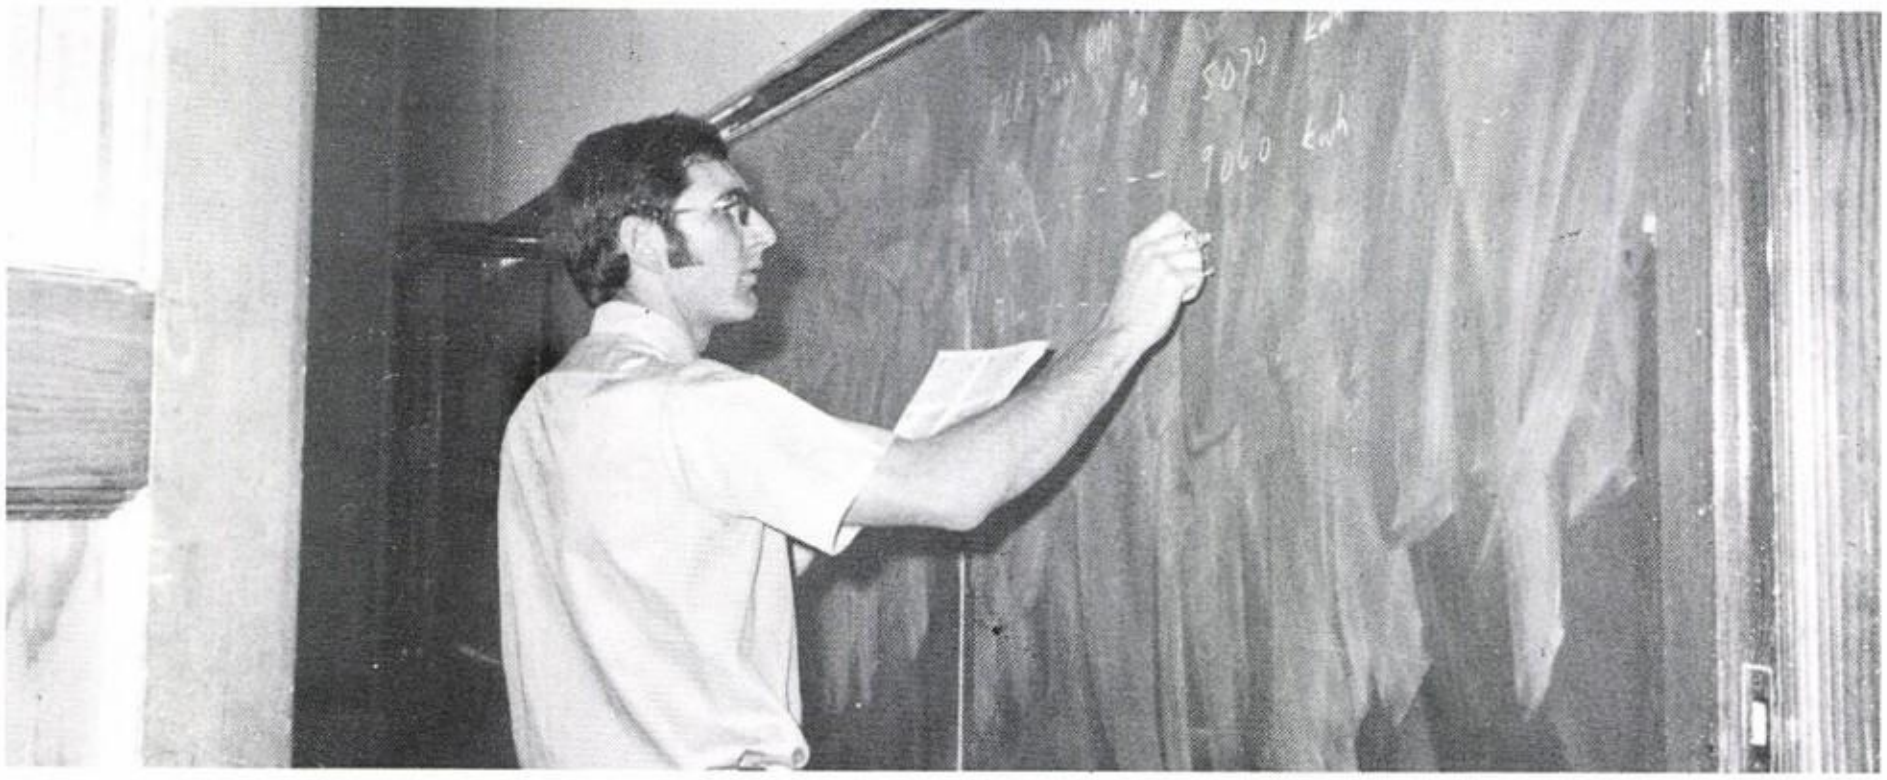
Spanish Club has had a variety of activities this year, ranging from picking corn to selling tacos. These money-making projects are to help with the financial costs of a trip to Mexico during the summer for some of the students. It hasn't been all work though. At Christmas the club ate at El Charro's and later had a party at the Johnson home. The officers this year have been Ruth Emerson - President; Vicki Bothwell - Secretary -Treasurer; and Lori Johnson - News Reporter. All of the 15 members have played an equal part in both fun and work.

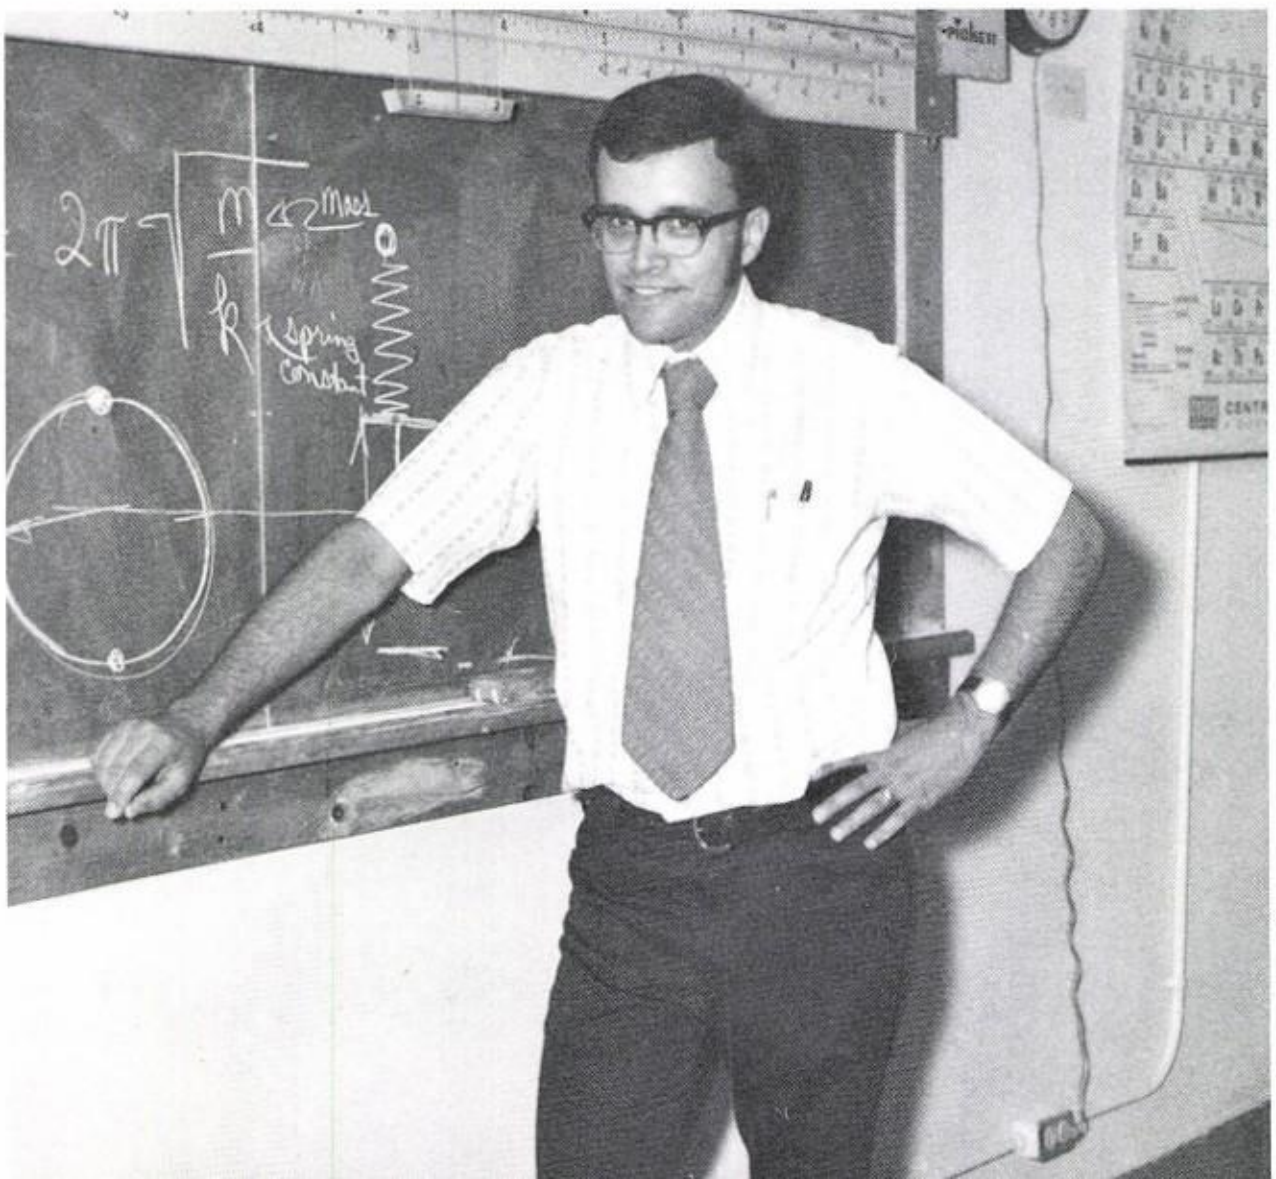


72-73 Terrier Staff Does It's Thing — The Real Thing

The yearbook staff has possibly one of the most hectic jobs of any organization. It requires efficiency as well as knowledge of layout rules and school functions. Mr. Harper and Joan Farwell are going for their second year straight as Advisor and Editor, along with their worthy crew, the Staff. Real Thing is meeting deadlines with a satisfactory production of layouts.

Logic and Intuitive Thinking





Mr. and Mrs. Dounay arrive each morning while many of the students are still in bed. Mr. Konantz doesn't make it until later, but then Mercuries wake up earlier than do Volkswagons. Little cars like little children need more sleep. If its happening in Physics or Chemistry or Math, these people are involved.

"Senior Scholastics"

The Senior year is one of many challenges and opportunities. The faculty and administration have made attempts to revise and modernize the curriculum, especially that concerning the Senior Class. Most extensive of this program is the Adult Living Class. The four divisions of the course are: Shop, Physiology, Psychology, and Home Economics.

Shop is under the direction of Mr. Krienke. He's new at VHS, and both he and his students have learned as the year passed. Shop activities include: plan drawings, refinishing-and then reassembling the parts in the correct order. Mr. Krienke is also the assistant and B-team basketball coach.

Physiology is headed by Mr. Harper. Being a three year veteran, he is well-known by all. This part teaches the students the physical aspects of their future lives. Shyness is definitely not advantageous in this class. Mr. Harper is also the Annual Advisor, and Student Council Sponsor. How he finds time for his extensive business trips is a mystery to us all.

Miss Parkening is the psychoanalyst of VHS. She shows us the various ways people attempt (and succeed) to escape reality. Within the nine weeks of this course, the Senior population thought at least once that they were "abnormal". Miss Parkening also teaches Senior English, and was moderator of the debates.

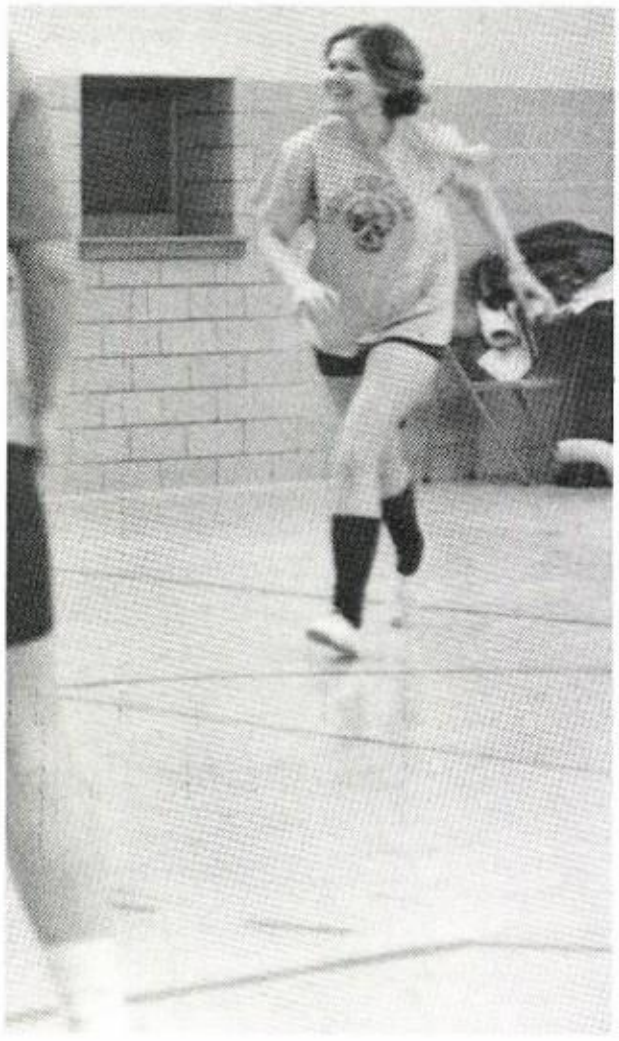
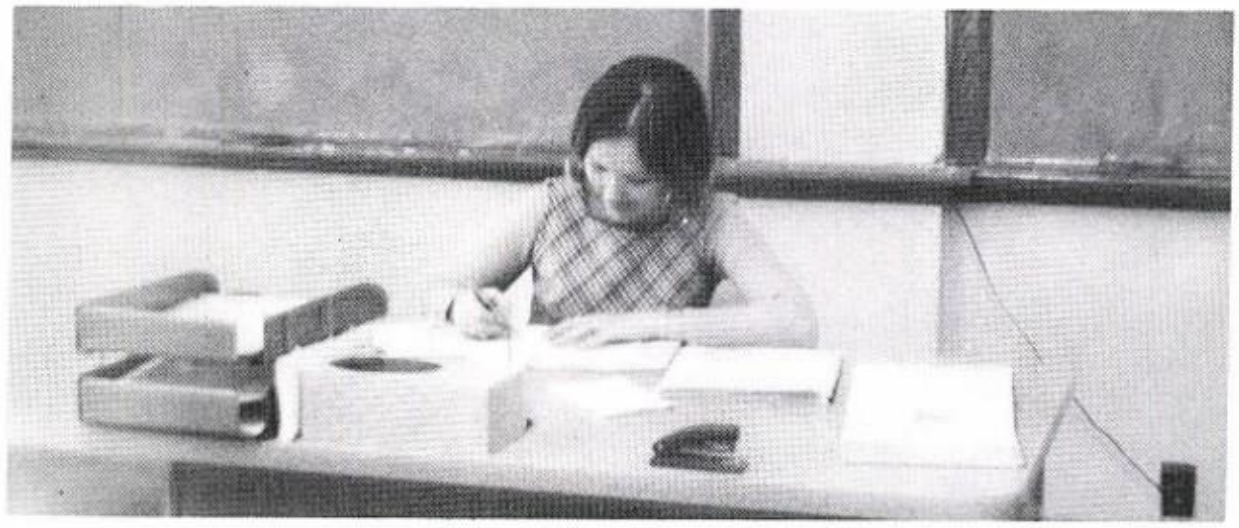
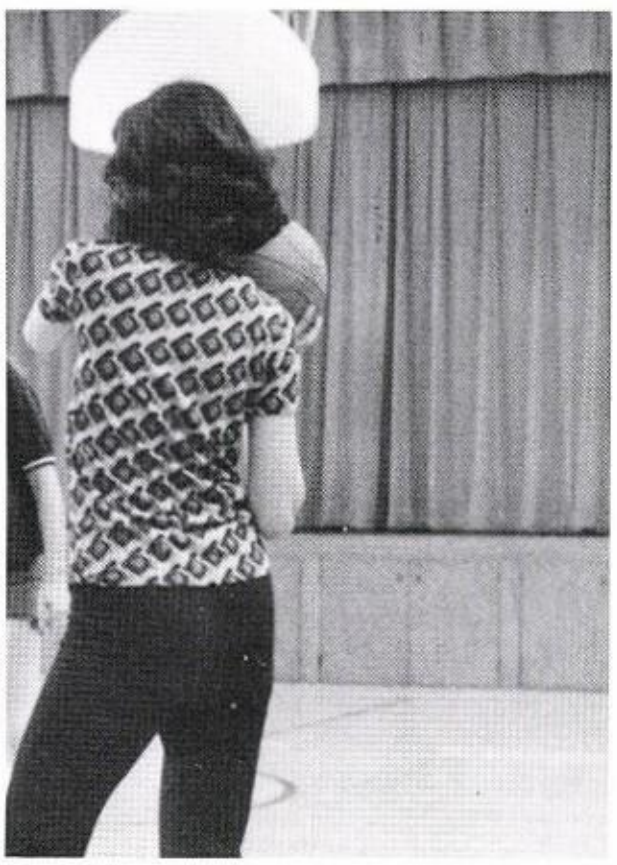
Mrs. Heisner has charge of the Home Economics Department. Her activities range from refereeing fights over the last drumstick, to showing how check books can be balanced. It being her fourth year of teaching at VHS, she has become quite close with many of the students.

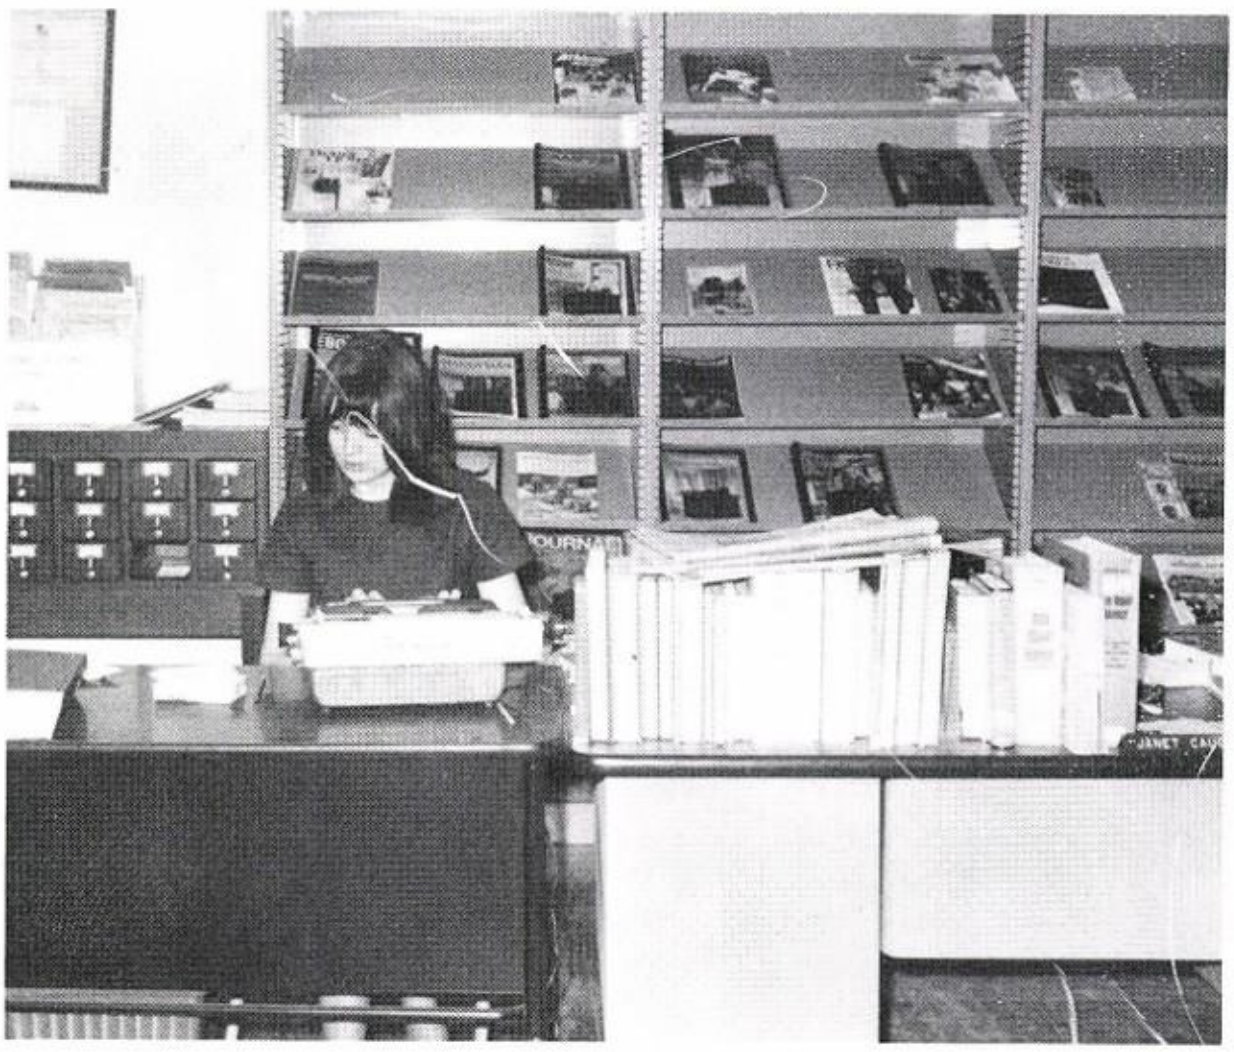
THE MANY MOODS OF WACHHOLTZ & CAUGHLIN



Late again Mrs. W.?







Student Council

This was not a real active year for the Student Council, but yet an important one because the group represents the needs and desires of the student body. The council can only be as good as students want it to be and can do little without their support. The student body must realize that the Student Council is there for their use --- but they must direct that use in a positive manner.

On June 5, 1973, the bond issue passed and Valley will have a new high school. The people of Valley should feel proud that they had the courage to so advance the quality of education that they provide for their young people.

Much of the credit for this successful endeavor should go to our own Board of Education for the long hard hours that they spent in guiding this campaign. The Yearbook staff would like to take this opportunity to say in the name of all the students--THANKS, WE NEEDED THAT!

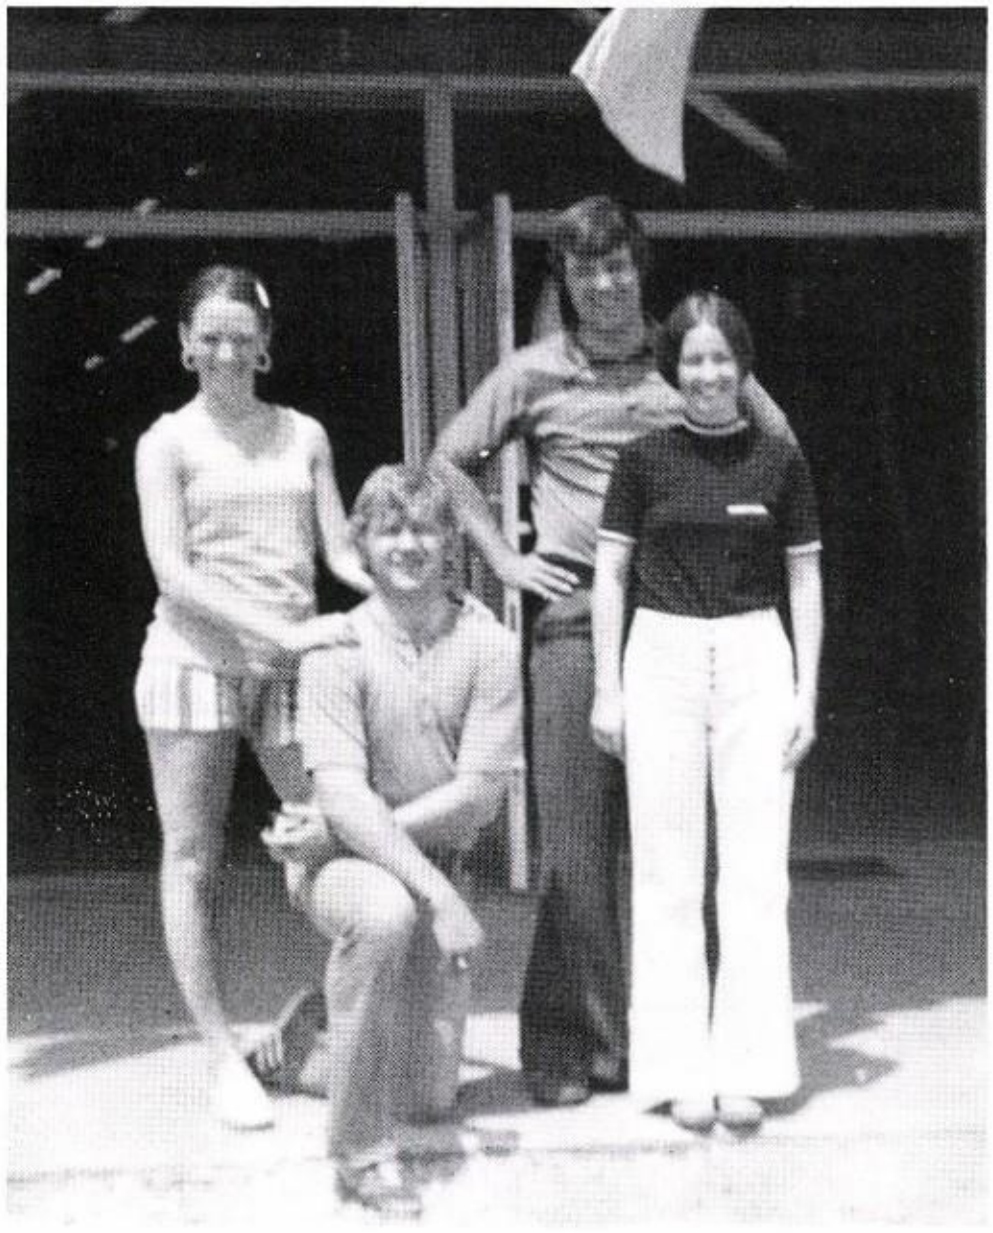
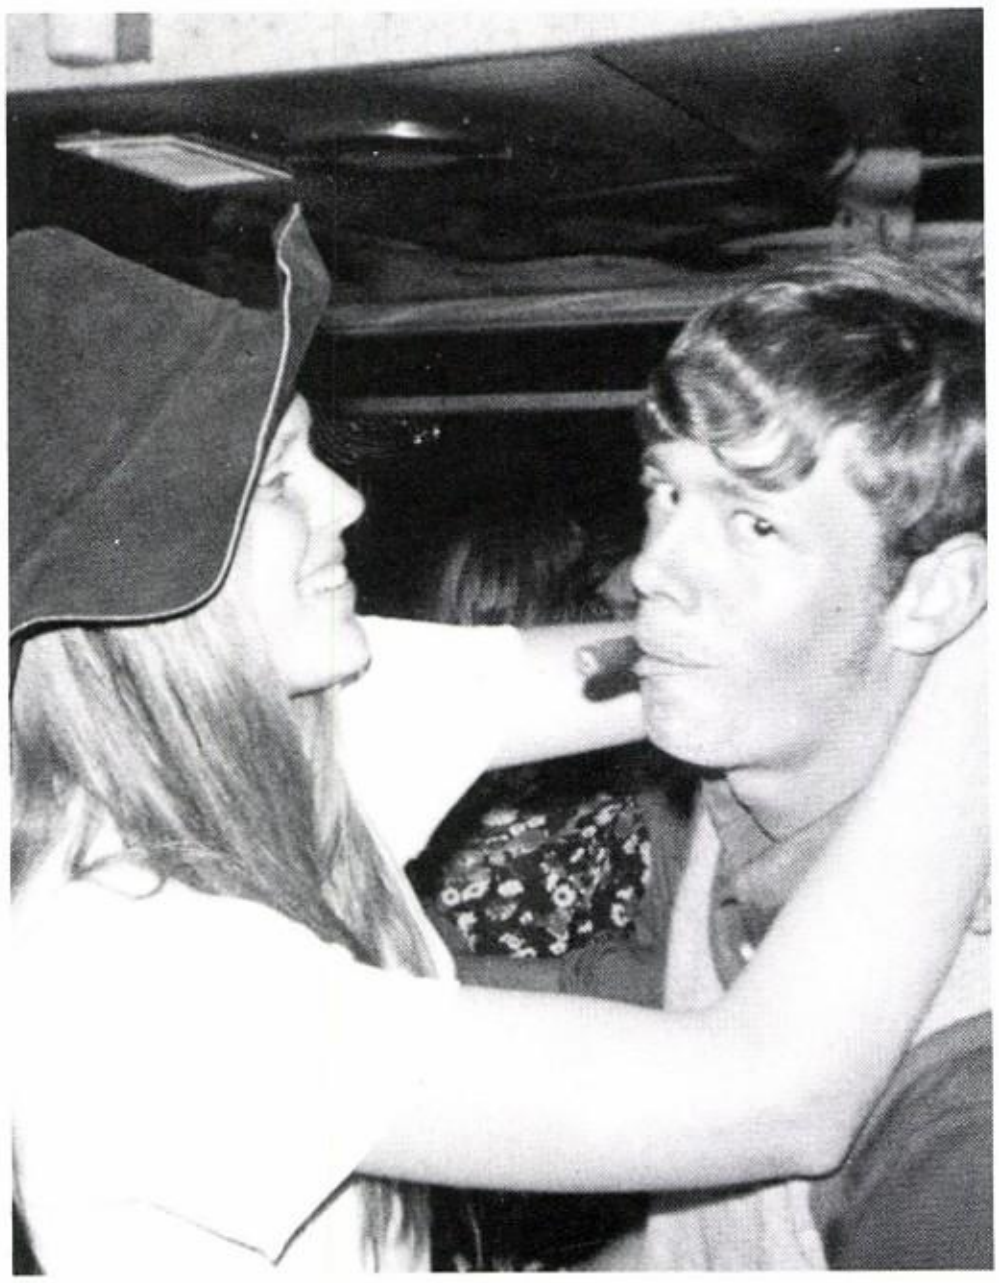
Sneak Day was the last event of the Senior Class before graduation, and spare time was easily filled by games, bumper cars, swimming, boating, or whatever your money could buy. The trip began on Friday, the 4th of May, when everyone jammed into the school bus. By 12:15 the chartered Continental Trailways bus was leading us to the Lake of the Ozarks. After an eight hour drive, we arrived and time was ours.





Saturday Night, the whole group attended the entertaining Grand Ole Opry, and Sunday evening was the dance with fantastic scenery and an "outasight" combo. Monday morning, everyone was awakened and were ready to leave by 9:00 a.m. Everyone had their own stories to tell. Like most trips, it is not one to soon be forgotten.

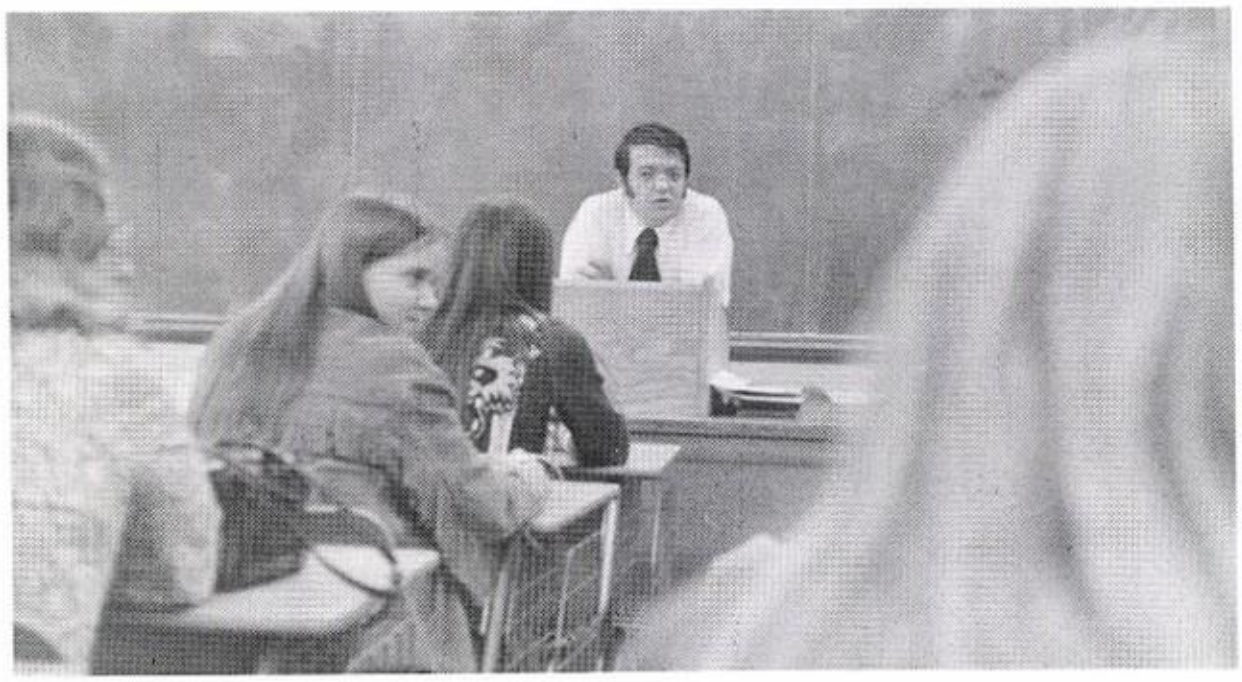
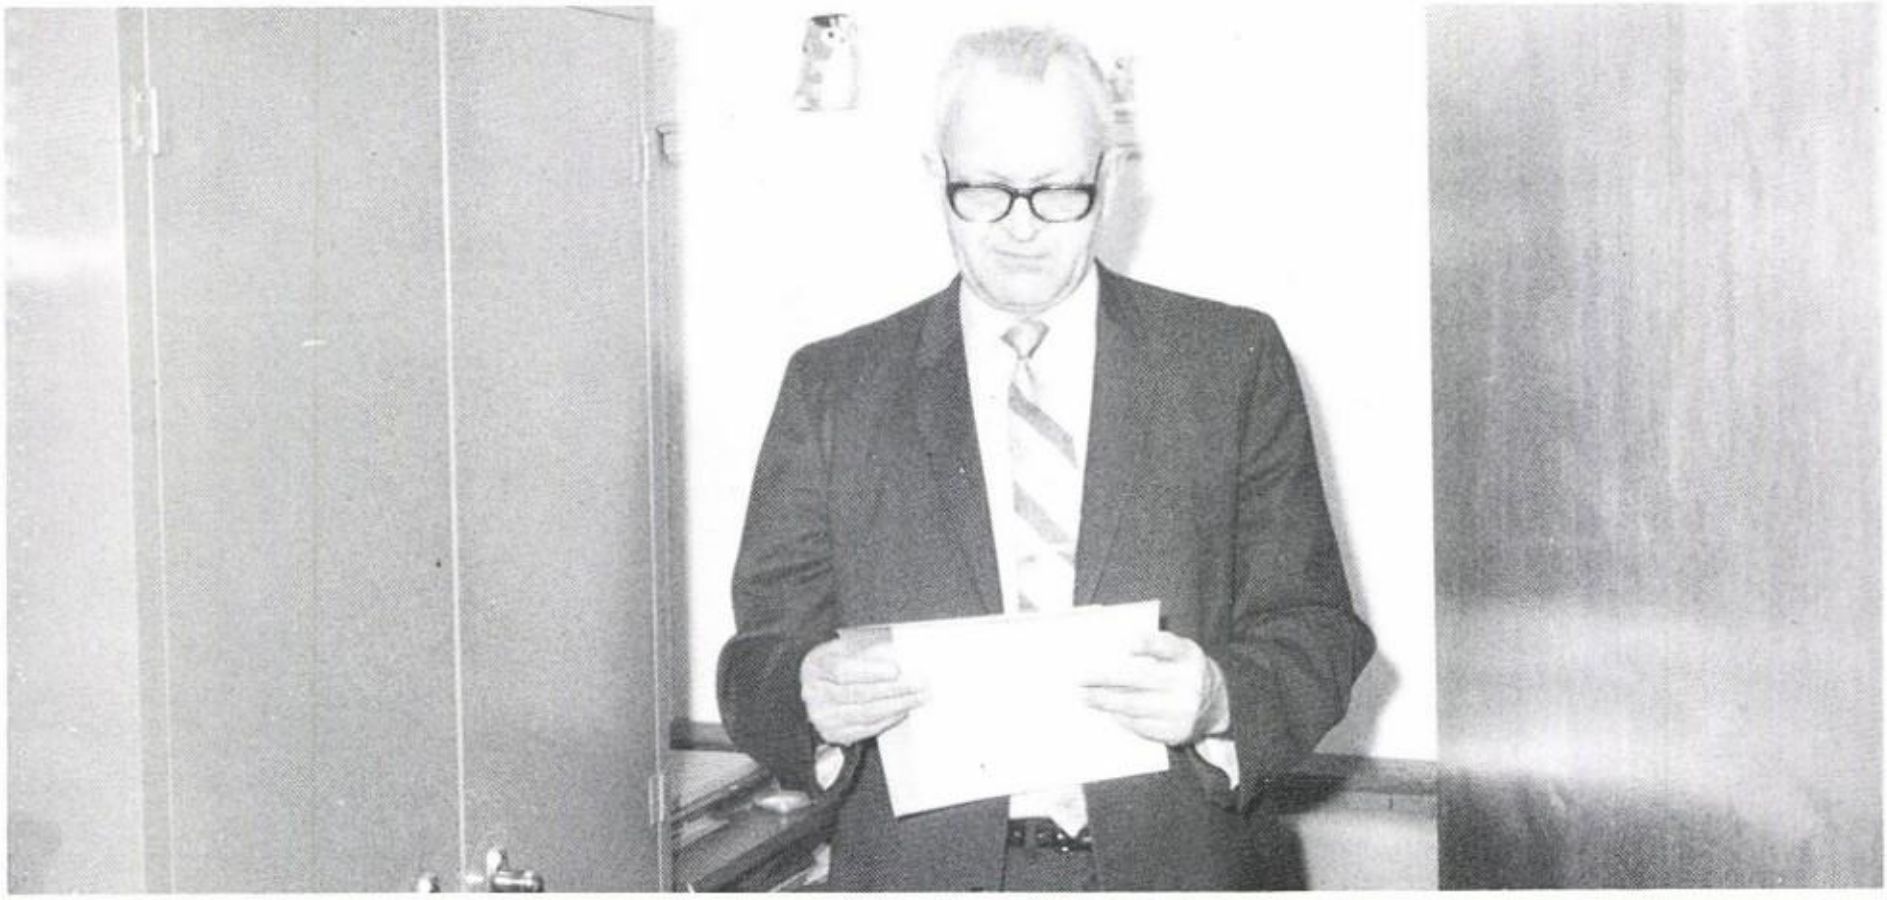
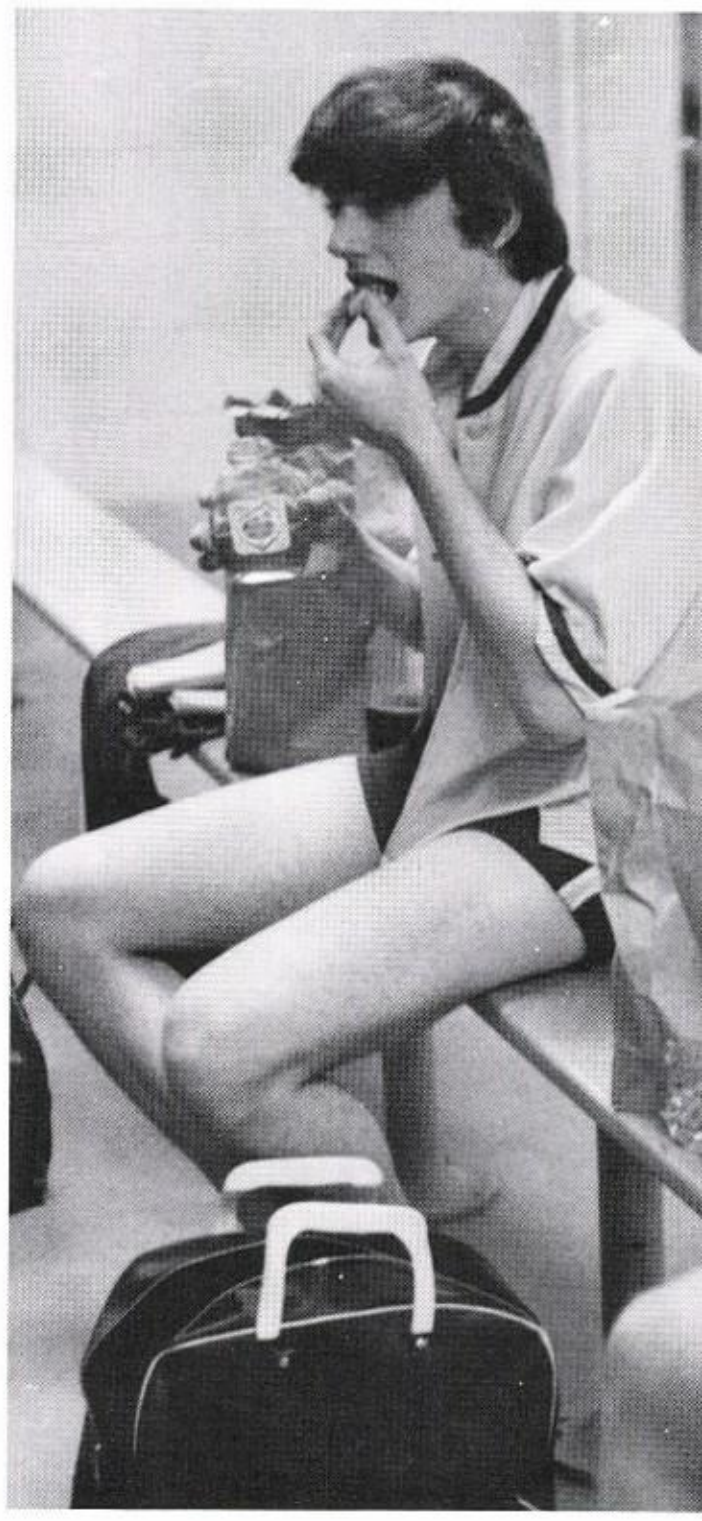
Administration



The day starts for Valley High's principal the moment he walks in the door. Questions bombard him from all sides, lights flash which indicate that someone wants him on the "other" line. Teachers have trouble with students; students have trouble with teachers -- A solution must be worked out so that harmony prevails. The computer fails -- 232 students want their report cards. His fault? no, but he must explain!

Sup't. Oorlog -- A man who deals in realities. Real things like taxes and mill levies; budgets and room enough for too many students; teachers who have problems and students who just want to visit; old buildings in need of constant repair and plans for new buildings to meet tomorrow's needs.





"Life's battles don't always go
To the stronger or faster man,
But sooner or later the man who wins
Is the one who thinks he can!"

This years wrestling squad was rather young and inexperienced. Losing only 3 seniors out of 13 lettermen, Valley will return a fine nucleus, including 4 wrestlers that placed 4th or better in Districts, for the 1973-74 campaign. In view of the fact that Valley forfeited one weight class every match and still ended up with a 5-4-1 dual record speaks highly of those wrestlers who exhibited mental and physical toughness throughout a very strenuous and demanding season.

"Attitude was the key word in our Valley Basketball program this year.

Valley finished the season with a 15-7 record. Highlighting the season were the victories over highly regarded Elkhorn and Clarkson.

Six seniors led the team this year. Gary Grashorn, Rod Ennis, John Peters, Jon Reichmuth, Gary Brodeur, and Mike Hall all contributed greatly to Valley's team success.

VHS has come a long way to achieve athletic and academic recognition. We have developed a sincere sense of school pride along with a winning attitude."

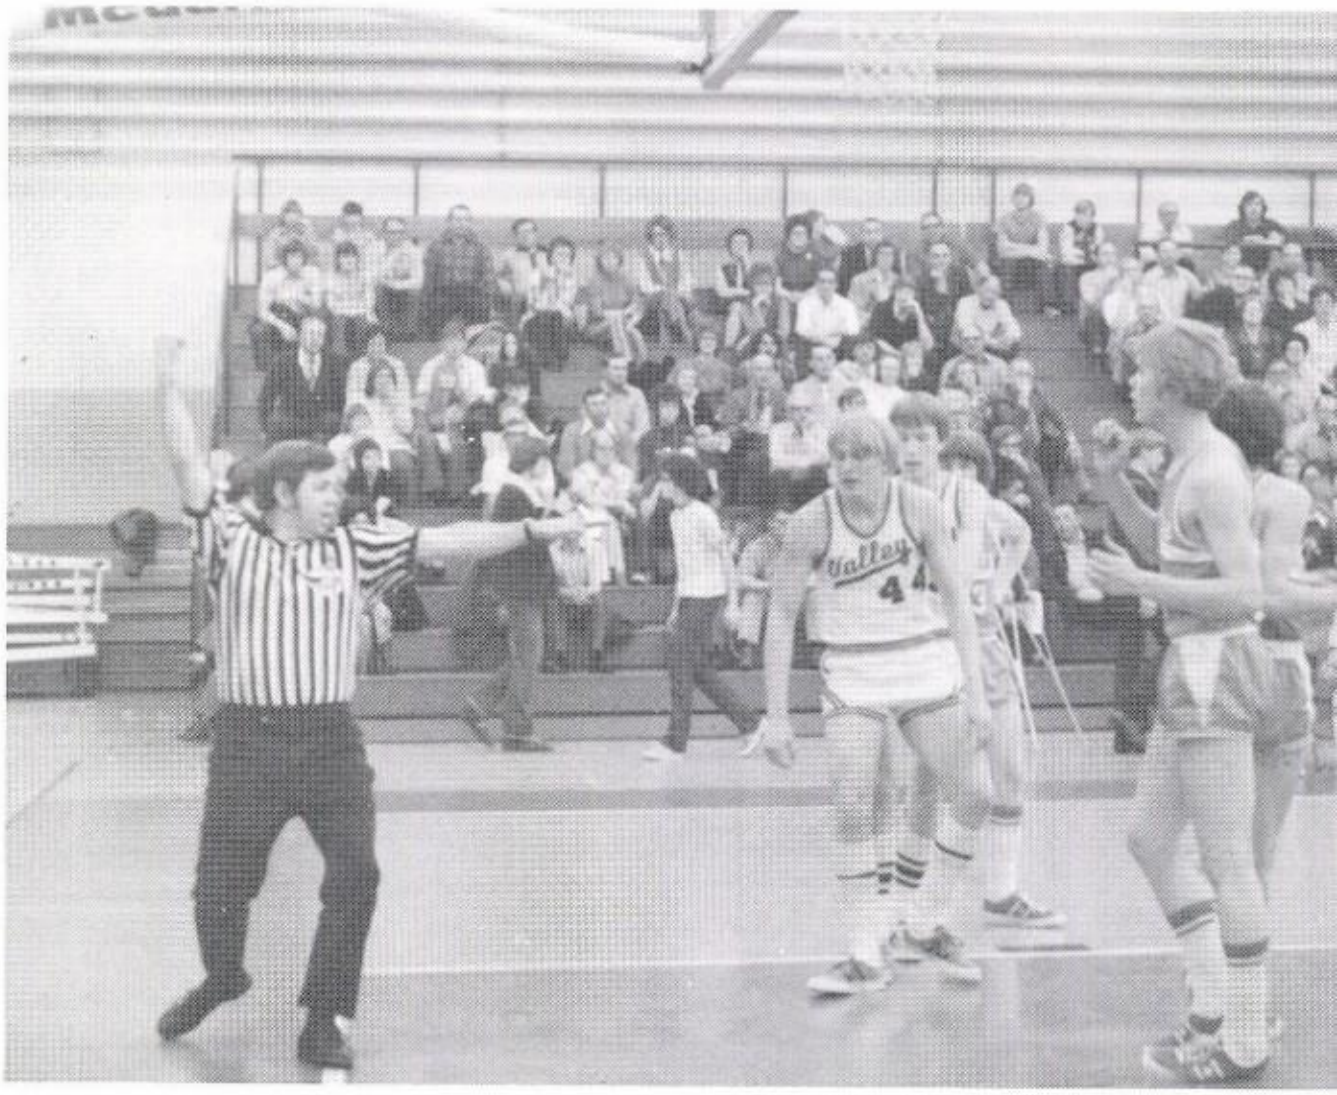
Districts



Valley's Basketball team had a tough, but winning season which meant the first place seed in districts. In the first game, Valley whipped Fort Calhoun by a score of 55 to 44. The second game, which proved to be much easier, Valley romped over Mount Michael 63-23. In the finals, Valley was upset by a strong Oakland-Craig team 55-50.

Girl's basketball was organized this year for the first time in V.H.S. history. Limited practice hours added to the complexity of the task, but the girls proved that with effort a decent showing can be made. The season was a success in the sense that the fundamentals of the game were introduced and carried out to some degree of efficiency. The future looks bright with the returning varsity, as well as the many reserves and junior high which showed promise throughout the year. Only two seniors, Georgene Boardman and Debbie Odell, will be leaving.

1973 Season Successful: New Records:

The girls said good-bye to their coach this year with one of their best seasons. Mrs. Pebley is retiring from teaching and leaving Valley High School this year. Her absence will be sorely felt by all members of the student body, but especially by the many girls who have worked for her for such a long time.

Class Colors: Red, White, & Blue

The Class of "73" started out as most freshmen classes do--bewildered, excited, and overshadowed by upperclassmen. The "initiations" by seniors were the first in a long line of making fools of ourselves. New romances and friendships evolved and the year progressed as normally as possible. Participation in sports and organizations began, a little clumsily at first, but as the years went by, the mighty class of "73" proved themselves as more-than-able competitors.

The sophomore year began in the new aura of being upperclassmen. Under the leadership of Jerry Leggett, the class launched several money-making projects to prepare for Prom and Sneak Day in the years to come. A stereo was raffled and given away at the annual Sophomore Carnival which in all produced a grand total of $1500.00. These funds proved a sound foundation for the money needed in the coming year.

The Junior year started with a mad scramble to raise enough money for prom. Prize money for the 1st place homecoming float was put to immediate use under the direction of Gloria Gleason. After a vicious fight, we succeeded in having prom out of town. Mr. Kelly's was the place chosen for the memorable event. Afterwards, of course, were the traditional parties and breakfasts.

The Senior year dawned with the false concept of being glorious and exceptional leaders in all organizations and sports. Leaders--true--but along with leadership came the headaches of being in charge. In sports, the seniors dominated the field. With the graduating class of 1973, Valley High School lost nearly 20 of its top athletes.

The year passed quickly, and all too soon, most of the main events had been experienced for "one last time." Prom, beating Elkhorn, District Basketball finals, Conference Track Champs, and Sneak Day were a few of the year's highlights.

Graduation was rewarding and brought tears, but also the happiness and confusion that comes with independence. Vows to keep in touch were made as final goodbyes were said. Each will go his own way and with God's help all will find a happiness of his own.

We realize that frontiers aren't limited to wilderness and prairie. We realize that in a hundred different directions lie new worlds to discover, new lands to explore. We realize that these new worlds and new lands lie hidden in the undiscovered depths of modern science, modern industry, and modern government . . . that these fields offer opportunities just as challenging and rewarding as any wilderness or any prairie. Then it is that we say with the great man who once remarked, "So little done, so much to do!"

The future is yours, and it will be your place to "find a way, or make one!"

There will always be a frontier!

I don't know who or what —
put the question . . .
I
don't even know
when it was put.
I don't even remember answering!

But at some moment

did

answer

To someone — or something.

And,
from that hour,
I was certain that existence is meaningful and that,
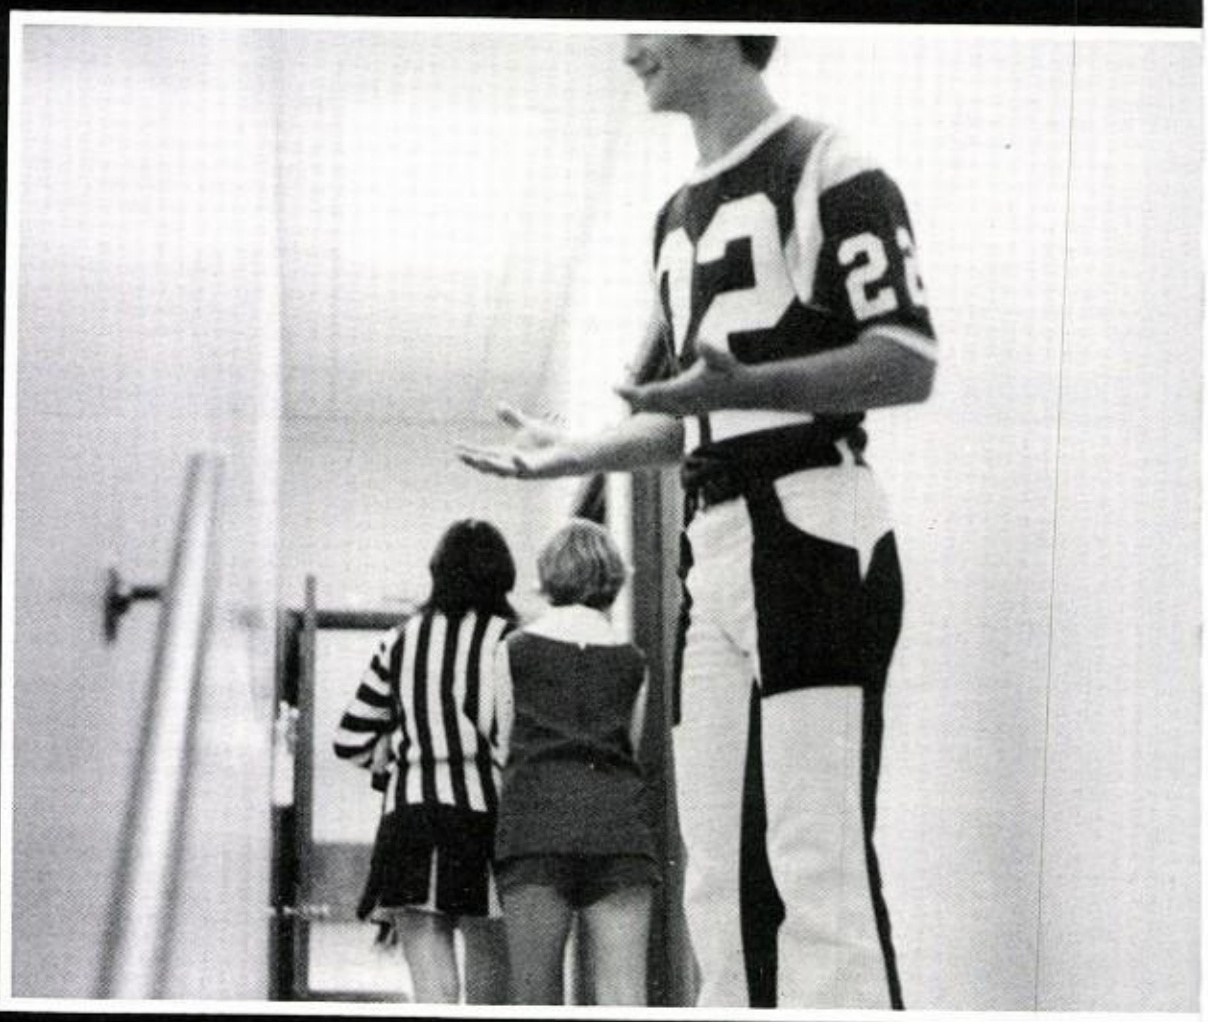
therefore,



My life
in self-surrender

Had
goal.
